SPY BLAMED FOR LOSS OF TUSCANIA; AUSTRIAN CABINET FORCED TO QUIT

TUSCANIA'S DOOM LAID TO GERMAN U.S. AGENTS

Advance Information of Movements of Vessels Believed to Have Caused Disaster of Sea

SOLDIERS ARE HEROES IN FACE OF DEATH

Chief Loss of Life Declared to Have Been Among the Men Who Quit Sinking Vessel First

By Ed L. Keen.

United Press Staff Correspondent. LONDON, Feb. 8.—That Germany had information of the coming of the transport Tuscania and other vessels with important passengers aboard, passengers on ships which accompanied the torpedoed ship.

A distinguished passenger from another ship, who witnessed the attack, said three torpedoes were fired at his own vessel later Tuesday night. He declared his belief that the U-boat commander was acting upon information obtained through the German spy system.

Scores of British naval and fishing craft continued their search today for bodies of the victims. They were aided by the coast patrol, which searched the base and inlets of the Irish and Scottish shores in that vicinity. Hope of finding other survivors has been practically abandoned.

Circumstantial stories told by British naval officers today indicated that at least one German submarine probably was destroyed during the attack. One of the rescuing destroyers, it was reported, wireless: "Torpedo just missed me," and gave the direction from which it was fired. Another destroyer, speeding to the spot, dropped a depth charge. The U-boat is believed to have been sunk. No further trace was found of her, although destroyers searched in that vicinity for a long time. This account is corroborated by other naval officers and passengers from other ships.

MORE THAN ONE DIVER POSSIBLY IN ATTACK

Practically all accounts agree that two torpedoes were fired at the Tuscania, one passing close under her stern. From the number of torpedoes fired and the varying directions from which they came, it would appear there may have been a fleet of submarines engaged in the attack.

The plan of mobbing a number of U-boats to make a sinking certain was instituted with the sinking of the Lusitania, and has been followed in a number of instances when the quarry was regarded as particularly important.

Tales of the bravery of the soldiers and sailors aboard the Tuscania were legion today. One of the most vivid concerns a crewman—an unnamed stewardess of the transport.

The lifeboat in which she sat was crowded when it pulled away from the side of the ship. In this strained position she held the soldier's head above water for half an hour. When the men were picked up it was discovered that she was clutching the hand of a corpse.

A medical officer from the Tuscania declared most of the death occurred among the men who jumped overboard when she was struck. The transport began to sink immediately, he said, and there was no way of picking them up until the lifeboats were lowered. By that time many of them had succumbed to exposure.

Advisers from London and Belfast said that when the Tuscania was attacked the men behaved with the most gallantry. Strict discipline was observed from the highest officers on board down to the privates and seamen. There was no sign of panic at any time.

The transport was one of a considerable convoy and every precaution had been taken to insure safety. In addition to the ordinary dangers of the passage which the convoy was traversing, it was known that several of Germany's most active U-boat commanders were at sea, and

BULLETIN.

LONDON, Feb. 8.—Revised figures indicate that the loss of life on the Tuscania probably was considerably in excess of yesterday's estimates of 101. It is now believed complete returns will show the number of dead nearer 200 than 100.

The following is a partial list of Californians believed to have been aboard the torpedoed Tuscania. The list was compiled from the records of the war department at Washington:

COMPLETE DEATH LIST STILL IN ABEYANCE

American Embassy at London Still Estimates Loss Aboard Transport Tuscania at 101

WAR DEPARTMENT'S FIGURES ARE HIGHER

Total Number of Survivors Who Have Landed at Irish and Scotch Points Given at 2035

BELFAST, Ireland, Feb. 8.—The Tuscania death roll may be reduced by 100 through landing of survivors at other points on the Irish and Scottish coast, it was estimated here this afternoon.

The British admiralty's estimate of casualties is 210. The unofficial estimate of the American embassy at London is 101.

AN IRISH PORT, Feb. 8.—As the list of Americans on board the Tuscania was lost when the vessel went down, it will be impossible to ascertain the names of those lost until the names of the survivors have been cabled to the United States.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Early today no additional list of the Tuscania survivors had become available at the war or navy departments. The only partial list received was that containing thirty names announced yesterday.

The committee on public information today made this announcement: "The passenger list of the Tuscania, compiled by the War Department at the port of embarkation shows that the vessel carried 217 military passengers and two civilian passengers. The military passengers consisted of 117 officers and 206 enlisted men."

Much concern has been occasioned throughout the country by confusion of the One Hundred and Seventh Regiment of Engineers with the One Hundred and Seventh Engineer train of the Thirty-second division. The One Hundred and Seventh Regiment of Engineers was not listed as having sailed on the Tuscania. The One Hundred and Seventh Engineer train was.

Physical difficulties in preparing lists of survivors of the Tuscania, it was said today at the War Department, are greatly delayed publication of an accurate list of the lost. The survivors have been landed at various points. Until officers manage to get in touch with them and check them off against the muster rolls or until a complete list of the names of the survivors can be assembled at some central point and checked against the ship's papers there is no way to determine who are missing, although the number may be known.

There is also a possibility that additional survivors may have been picked up by patrol boats. The list of lifeboats also must be checked up, as one or two might have made shore unaided.

There are instances in the submarine disasters where crews have been taken from their boats by outward-bound vessels. It is regarded as unlikely, however, that any survivors of the Tuscania will be found to have matched the war department's figures here, the list of missing will be regarded definitely as the list of dead.

INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

LONDON, Feb. 8.—With the number of lives lost on the Tuscania placed at 101, the bodies of twenty-nine American soldiers were still unaccounted for today. The latest estimate of the American dead was seventy-three and of these forty-four badly mutilated bodies had been washed upon the Irish coast about sixteen miles from the scene of the disaster. According to figures compiled at the American embassy, the lost and saved totals as follows:

Total men on board 217

Missing 101

Recovered 116

Bodies recovered 14

A number of Americans were injured and over one hundred are in hospitals suffering from exposure and wounds. None of the dead was identified. Their features were unrecognizable.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—As on yesterday, the total loss of 101, as computed by the American embassy at London, finds a seeming denial in the latest figures here, the latter being considerably higher. This was due, officials explained, to the fact that Major-General George Porter, commanding the American forces in Great Britain, was having difficulty in getting complete reports from the scattered points where the units

ROOSEVELT IMPROVES, STILL IN HOSPITAL

Colonel "Gets Better Every Minute," Is the Report This Afternoon of His Physicians

CONDITION STILL SERIOUS, WARNS FAMILY DOCTOR

Hundreds of Telegrams Pour in From the Whole Country; President Sends a Message

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt "is getting better every minute," it was announced this afternoon at the Roosevelt Hospital, where the former president is confined.

Dr. Martin, family physician, announced that the colonel had a very satisfactory morning.

"He has assimilated all nourishment," said Dr. Martin's statement, "and pulse and temperature remain normal."

The colonel's condition, however, is still serious.

The condition of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, who was operated on Wednesday for fistula and abscesses in both ears, was pronounced as "unchanged" by Dr. Harold K. Keyes of Roosevelt Hospital early today. Dr. Keyes added that Colonel Roosevelt had slept all night and had rested comfortably.

Colonel Roosevelt's temperature and pulse were normal, a bulletin issued at the hospital this morning said.

"Mrs. Roosevelt and Martin saw Colonel Roosevelt at 8 a. m.," the bulletin reads. "He has had a very satisfactory night, having slept about six hours. He will be able to take nourishment at regular intervals during the day. His temperature and pulse are normal."

Three nurses and Dr. Keyes were in constant attendance at the former president's bedside during the night. Mrs. Roosevelt spent the night in an adjoining room of the hospital. The colonel's daughters, Mrs. Nicholas Langworth and Mrs. Richard Derby, remained at the hospital until a late hour last night and then left for a nearby hotel, leaving word they should be notified in case of any change in the colonel's condition. It was learned today that it was not necessary to communicate with them.

HUNDREDS OF TELEGRAMS COME TO HOSPITAL

During the night hundreds of telegrams from all parts of the country were received at the hospital and were turned over to Mrs. Roosevelt this morning. It was stated visitors would not be allowed to see Colonel Roosevelt during the forenoon.

Persons in touch with the sick room considered the colonel's condition this morning very encouraging.

Mrs. Langworth and Mrs. Derby rejoined Mrs. Roosevelt at the hospital this forenoon.

There were many callers, none of whom the colonel was able to see this morning. They included George B. Cortelyou, who was his private secretary at the White House, Rear-Admiral Albert Gleaves, several army officers and a number of personal and political friends.

Douglas Robinson called at the hospital before noon and spoke with the physicians.

"I am told the colonel's condition is very encouraging," he said.

The affection of Colonel Roosevelt's ear which had caused his physicians considerable concern subsided somewhat today according to information given out at the Roosevelt Hospital at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—President Wilson today sent a message of sympathy to Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt for the illness of Colonel Roosevelt.

"May I not express my warmest sympathy and the sincere hope that Mr. Roosevelt's condition is improving," the message said.

OFFICIAL WASHINGTON IS DEEPLY CONCERNED

Official Washington from the White House down to a colored messenger who used to know him, was deeply concerned today about the condition of Roosevelt.

The United Press offices were bombarded with phone messages and personal calls about Roosevelt's condition. The White House asked to be informed. Secretary Lansing sent inquiries, as also did Secretary Daniels and Secretary Baker.

The Republican national committee and many in Congress sought news of the colonel's progress.

HUBERT P. GAME, Oakland boy, killed in aeroplane accident.

FALL KILLS ARMY FLYER OF OAKLAND

The grim toll of war added the name of another Oakland lad today when Hubert P. Game, 22, son of Mrs. C. D. Game, 6115 Alameda avenue, fell to his death on the aviation field at Wichita Falls, Tex., when the wing of his machine crumpled several hundred feet in the air. Game is believed to have died instantly.

The details of the accident have not yet been given out by the military heads. Young Game, with others of the cadet flying service, has been of preliminary training. He was rated as an advanced cadet. The morning flying work was in progress when the accident occurred. The wing of young Game's machine suddenly went to pieces. The next instant the Oakland boy was hurled to earth.

One of Game's last acts on leaving home for the Eastern training camp was to give his aged mother the photograph printed above, with the remark:

"You can keep this to see what I look like when you get lonesome."

Game was formerly connected with the Union Fish Company in San Francisco, leaving his employment to take up the aviation work in Berkeley. He had a cousin, Mr. Harold E. Watkins, 6057 Claremont avenue.

TRANSPORT'S DOOM LAID TO HUN SPY

This intensified the watchfulness of the gunners at the destroyers. As soon as news of the attack had been flashed, destroyers, tugs, minesweepers and trawlers rushed toward the scene.

The loss of life would probably have been greater but for the coolness and discipline of the Americans. Second Officer Lynas of the Tuscania, who was saved, said the Americans "behaved splendidly and maintained perfect discipline throughout the ordeal."

AMERICAN NERVE

The American nerve did not desert them after they had been taken ashore. A powerfully built young guardsman from Wisconsin, who had been swimming for over an hour in the icy waters before being picked up, grinned cheerfully from the blankets in which he had been rolled when he got ashore.

"Well, I guess I've got enough swimming to last me for the rest of my life," he said.

Asked what the men did when the torpedo struck and the ship began to settle, he scratched his head and declared:

"Well, I guess most of us were wondering how cold the water was. Then some of the fellows started up the 'Star-Spangled Banner' and we all sang like hell."

An unconfirmed report reached here from London that the submarine which sank the Tuscania had been chased and fired on by a destroyer, but whether or not the U-boat was sunk or damaged is not known.

Before making off the submarine fired several torpedoes at the destroyers but all missed. Only the master's seamanship of the British sailors prevented the torpedoes from reaching their targets, however.

All day Wednesday survivors from the Tuscania kept arriving at Irish and Scottish ports. All were received with a warmth of hospitality that deeply touched the hearts of the men from overseas. Homes were thrown open to them and hotels and inns were operated for them.

Some of the men were in bad shape from shock and exposure, some of them being from the inland districts of the United States and never having been to the ocean before, but under the stimulus of the warm dry clothing and hot food they soon regained their cheerfulness and indifference.

Lieutenant George N. Hall of Los Angeles and Lieutenant Wallace Patterson of Cleveland were among the last to leave the sinking transport. They remained on deck stowing soldiers into lifeboats and when they finally slid over the side of the ship they found themselves in the last boat.

One serious mishap marred the launching of lifeboats. The second which was swung over the side of the Tuscania was caught by a furious gust of wind and a powerful wave and was dashed against the sides of another boat which was filled. A hole was stove in the first boat and several men were badly hurt.

It was announced that arrangements are being made in British and American officials, jointly, for great military funerals for the Tuscania's dead.

The captain of the Tuscania was Peter McLean, not J. L. Henderson, as was reported. Captain McLean has been in service of the Anchor line for twenty years.

An official statement issued in London early Thursday afternoon said that Captain J. L. Henderson was in command of the Tuscania.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Crawford Vaughan, former premier of South Australia and leader of the National Labor party of that country, started from Washington today for a speaking tour of the large shipyards on the Atlantic coast to stimulate shipworkers to maximum efforts.

MIDDLEBORO, Mass., Feb. 8.—Five automobile bandits who started out last night to raid postoffices on Cape Cod were captured here today after being fired on by officers here and at Wrentham, fifty miles away. One of the men was shot but not fatally injured.

As a result of this difficulty in locating the men of the various units there is still doubt about a number of the engineers and members of other units who enlisted from the East Bay cities, and who are known to have been in the units, parts of which were on the Tuscania. Among these are the following not reported in yesterday's list:

Edgar D. Brownell of Oakland, enlisted last August in the aviation corps, formerly employed by East Bay Water Company in Berkeley, 21 years old. Mrs. Florence Brownell, his wife, removed to Los Angeles in August.

Earl W. Griffith of Alameda, enlisted in aviation corps August 12, and was assigned to squadron reported on board Tuscania; 19 years old; his sister, Mrs. Edward Ellis, lives at 1514 Encinal avenue; he was formerly employed in the public schools of Alameda.

Harold P. Adams, 401 Haddon Road, Oakland, son of Noah Adams of the Noah Adams Lumber Company, manager of the Western branch of the lumber company, 31 years old; last wrote from Hoboken, N. J., saying he expected to sail soon for France.

Charles E. Marcell, private in the 15th aero squadron, was last seen when he enlisted November 30. The boy lived with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ford M. Marcell, 2815 Wheeler street, Berkeley, where the family is well known. He gave his occupation as that of clerk.

John T. Greenfield, private in the 15th aero squadron, is the son of Mrs. Mary Welch of 314 Nevada avenue, Richmond. He enlisted in Oakland, November 26. He was only 19 years old.

Stephen W. Ryan, 21 years old, private in the 15th aero squadron, lived at 241 Alameda street, Oakland, with his mother, Mrs. Mary Ryan. He was a mechanic. His enlistment was on November 22.

Clare S. Griffith, private, 10th aero squadron, lived at 2589 Eleventh avenue, Oakland. He enlisted August 9, at the

Parents and relatives of about thirty men from the East Bay cities who were on board the ill-fated transport Tuscania are still anxiously waiting word of their fate. Out of thirty-three men from Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda, Emeryville, Richmond and San Leandro only four listed among the known survivors. Many of the others will probably be reported today in the revised lists of survivors, but until these official reports are given out by the government there will be more hours of heart-breaking waiting for mothers and fathers of the boys.

The four men from this side of the bay reported on the early list of known survivors are Private John P. Fleming and Lieutenant Frank Makor of Oakland, Private Walter Risley of Alameda and Lieutenant Rex Arnold of Martinez. A dozen or more of the thirty-three men from the East Bay cities believed to be among those who were on the Tuscania were enlisted at the local recruiting headquarters, 909 Broadway, by Sergeant Patrick Pepper, who is in charge. It was through Sergeant Pepper's complete office that the names of the boys were listed.

Much worry was occasioned parents and relatives of the boys who enlisted in the Twentieth Engineers by the manner in which the lists were given out yesterday and today. An explanation of the situation, showing that a large part of this morning's list was made up of boys who were enlisted at the local recruiting headquarters, was made today by H. G. Boyden, captain in the Engineer Reserve Corps, of the department engineer's office of the Western Department. He said:

"The Twentieth Engineers (forestry), the nucleus of which was obtained from among men skilled in logging and sawmill operations in California, Oregon and Washington, consists of six battalions of 1,000 men each. Owing to the large number of companies and battalions, it is very probable that there will be several companies of the same name, but that it is a man is known to be in Company F of the Twentieth Engineers, and Company F is located, it may not mean that the man is in that particular company. The Twentieth Engineers was mobilized at Camp American University, Washington, D. C., under the command of its colonel, W. A. Mitchell. We have no knowledge here as to the companies to which the men from California were assigned, as the only assignment here was to the regiment, and they were placed in the various companies after arrival at the mobilization camp."

Among these are the following not reported in yesterday's list:

Edgar D. Brownell of Oakland, enlisted last August in the aviation corps, formerly employed by East Bay Water Company in Berkeley, 21 years old. Mrs. Florence Brownell, his wife, removed to Los Angeles in August.

Earl W. Griffith of Alameda, enlisted in aviation corps August 12, and was assigned to squadron reported on board Tuscania; 19 years old; his sister, Mrs. Edward Ellis, lives at 1514 Encinal avenue; he was formerly employed in the public schools of Alameda.

Harold P. Adams, 401 Haddon Road, Oakland, son of Noah Adams of the Noah Adams Lumber Company, manager of the Western branch of the lumber company, 31 years old; last wrote from Hoboken, N. J., saying he expected to sail soon for France.

Charles E. Marcell, private in the 15th aero squadron, was last seen when he enlisted November 30. The boy lived with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ford M. Marcell, 2815 Wheeler street, Berkeley, where the family is well known. He gave his occupation as that of clerk.

John T. Greenfield, private in the 15th aero squadron, is the son of Mrs. Mary Welch of 314 Nevada avenue, Richmond. He enlisted in Oakland, November 26. He was only 19 years old.

Stephen W. Ryan, 21 years old, private in the 15th aero squadron, lived at 241 Alameda street, Oakland, with his mother, Mrs. Mary Ryan. He was a mechanic. His enlistment was on November 22.

Parents and relatives of about thirty men from the East Bay cities who were on board the ill-fated transport Tuscania are still anxiously waiting word of their fate. Out of thirty-three men from Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda, Emeryville, Richmond and San Leandro only four listed among the known survivors. Many of the others will probably be reported today in the revised lists of survivors, but until these official reports are given out by the government there will be more hours of heart-breaking waiting for mothers and fathers of the boys.

The four men from this side of the bay reported on the early list of known survivors are Private John P. Fleming and Lieutenant Frank Makor of Oakland, Private Walter Risley of Alameda and Lieutenant Rex Arnold of Martinez. A dozen or more of the thirty-three men from the East Bay cities believed to be among those who were on the Tuscania were enlisted at the local recruiting headquarters, 909 Broadway, by Sergeant Patrick Pepper, who is in charge. It was through Sergeant Pepper's complete office that the names of the boys were listed.

Much worry was occasioned parents and relatives of the boys who enlisted in the Twentieth Engineers by the manner in which the lists were given out yesterday and today. An explanation of the situation, showing that a large part of this morning's list was made up of boys who were enlisted at the local recruiting headquarters, was made today by H. G. Boyden, captain in the Engineer Reserve Corps, of the department engineer's office of the Western Department. He said:

"The Twentieth Engineers (forestry), the nucleus of which was obtained from among men skilled in logging and sawmill operations in California, Oregon and Washington, consists of six battalions of 1,000 men each. Owing to the large number of companies and battalions, it is very probable that there will be several companies of the same name, but that it is a man is known to be in Company F of the Twentieth Engineers, and Company F is located, it may not mean that the man is in that particular company. The Twentieth Engineers was mobilized at Camp American University, Washington, D. C., under the command of its colonel, W. A. Mitchell. We have no knowledge here as to the companies to which the men from California were assigned, as the only assignment here was to the regiment, and they were placed in the various companies after arrival at the mobilization camp."

ONLY SOME ON TUSCANIA.

As a result of this difficulty in locating the men of the various units there is still doubt about a number of the engineers and members of other units who enlisted from the East Bay cities, and who are known to have been in the units, parts of which were on the Tuscania. We are engaged in remodeling and rearranging several of our departments to better handle the greatly increased business and afford added facilities and conveniences to our patrons.

The Millinery Department

ALWAYS making the wishes of our customers paramount, seeking to build our business through rendering shoppers every service it is possible to give—we announce the enlargement of our millinery department and that it is being placed on the ground floor. Here a most complete stock of the latest models in millinery will be carried.

THE plan to enlarge this department was decided on after several successive seasons showed a marked demand for the quality and price of our millinery.

THIS enlargement of Mosbacher's is of particular interest to our patrons as it enables them to select a hat—in the same establishment—completely in harmony with the rest of their costume, irrespective of the occasion for which that costume might be selected.

IN this new department the most stylish hats in the best quality of materials will be offered for the coming season at very moderate prices. It is our desire to continue the increase which our millinery business has shown.

WE have found that the careful and intelligent shopper is largely in the majority—that the woman who patronizes Mosbacher's appreciates honesty in merchandise and its representation.

WE feel confident that the new millinery department will enjoy a patronage which will amply repay us for every effort made to meet the requirements of our customers and to please them is always our endeavor.

Note: The improvements in other departments will be the subjects of further advertisements during the remodeling.

ARAB ARMY
ANNIHILATES
TURK FORCE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Arab forces under the command of the sheik of Mecca have completely defeated the Turkish army operating southeast of the Dead Sea. Officials despatches received today state.

In a sanguinary battle, which began January 30, the Arab tribesmen practically annihilated the entire Turkish force, capturing 200 prisoners, including the Turkish commander-in-chief and his staff, the report states.

The Turkish loss in killed alone exceeded 400. Eighteen machine guns, two mountain guns and a large amount of booty fell into the hands of the Arabs.

FORCES CUT TO PIECES.

The engagement, according to the report made by General Allenby of the British expeditionary force in Palestine, began at Kerek, near the southeastern extremity of the Dead Sea. The Turks, badly beaten, lost many prisoners, seven machine guns, one mountain gun and a large quantity of booty, retreating in disorder.

Pursuing Arabs overtook the detachments near Tafle, where the remaining forces were cut to pieces.

In the Jerusalem sector, General Allenby reports that railway communication has been opened up with the Jerusalem railroad, which virtually assures the British line of communication in their drive across the Jordan to cut the Hejaz railroad. If this campaign, which military critics predict is Allenby's plan of strategy, is successful, the Turk communication line with Medina will be broken.

ARABS AID BRITISH.

Tribesmen under the Sheik of Mecca, or King of Mecca, as the former Sheik of Medina now designates himself, have been of great assistance to the British expeditionary forces in driving the Turk from the Holy Land. Shortly after the British campaign in Palestine got under way, the Sheik, ruling over Mecca and Medina by the authority of the Sultan, declared the independence of Arabia from Turkish rule.

England immediately recognized the newly-formed government, and as a result the Arabs allied themselves with the British.

LONDON, Feb. 8.—Hostile artillery fire during the night in the neighborhood of Fiesquiere was reported by Field Marshal Kailg today.

AMSTERDAM, Feb. 8.—While we are aware of the great value of peace, Turkey will never conclude a separate peace at any price," said Hail Bey, new Turkish foreign minister, declared in an address before the chamber, according to Constantinople despatches received here today.

Hail said Turkey was in complete agreement with Hertling and Czernin and added:

"We will hold on until some concrete success is attained. We will make only such concessions as are compatible with our honor and national dignity."

Keel Is Laid
For First of
"Flyover Fleet"

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—The keel for the first of the fleet of "vest pocket submarine fighters" Henry Ford is making for the navy was laid yesterday, Ford wired Secretary Daniels today.

"This contract was let only a few days ago," said Secretary Daniels. "so you see Ford is losing no time getting under way." Daniels said the Ford boat has not yet been named, but that whatever name was given it officially probably would be popularly replaced with a nickname.

M'ADOO EXPLAINS LOAN BILL PLAN

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Secretary McAdoo, before the Senate finance committee, explaining the war finance corporation bill, said it was purely a war measure contemplating the lending of money through the banks for operation of enterprises necessary to the successful prosecution of the war.

Under the bill's provisions, he explained, should a bank lend money to a munitions factory, the bank could obtain through the war finance corporation a loan, amounting to 75 per cent of the one advanced. These loans could be made to any bank, whether a member of the federal reserve or not.

The loans to concerns engaged in war activities could be made under specified restrictions if it were shown that banks were discriminating against them.

Similar legislation now in force in England and France has been successful, Secretary McAdoo said.

Senator Penrose observed that in England there had not been any issue of "uncovered paper."

"At least, the covering is so thin that you can't see it," remarked Senator Smoot, "and that it is exactly what we are coming to in this country."

McAdoo said the bill sought to prevent that condition.

SURVIVORS LOSE NO TIME GETTING BACK ON JOB

BELFAST, Ireland, Feb. 8.—Undaunted by their experiences in the torpedoing of the transport Tuscania, American soldiers buckled down today to prepare themselves for the next attack against the Hun—via the American front in France.

Two trainloads of survivors were sent to a military camp somewhere in Great Britain, where they will undergo training as soon as the equipment lost on the Tuscania has been replaced.

The majority of these were medical corps men, engineers, foresters and aviators.

HENEY'S 'IN';
KENT CAUSE OF HESITANCY

From Chicago today came the hurried announcement of Francis J. Heney that he had not "made up his mind that I will or that I won't be a candidate for governor of California."

He said, according to a United Press dispatch to the Associated Press, "It is necessary to save the State of California from falling into the hands of the reactionaries. I shall be a candidate, and shall make a vigorous fight to win."

"Under these circumstances, if there is a sufficient demand from all classes of the people for my services, I will be a candidate."

Heney said he has received scores of letters and telegrams asking him to make the race for governor. To none has he replied definitely.

"I have not given them the consideration to which they are entitled because I have been engrossed in the work I have been conducting for the Federal Government. But I shall give them earnest consideration as soon as this work is completed. My present task is wider in scope because I am trying to help prevent the entire country from falling into the hands of reactionaries. As soon as this task is completed I can turn my attention to the California question."

This will be in about two months it was indicated.

HAS ANOTHER REASON.

Gavin McNab of San Francisco gives another reason for Heney's hesitancy.

"Heney hesitates," said McNab today, "not because of his present work in exposing the iniquities of Armour, Swift, Nelson Morris et al. The real reason is former Congressman William Kent and his proposed contribution of $25,000 to the Heney campaign fund, after Heney had stated he would not consider the nomination unless the financing of the campaign was an assured fact."

Heney is fighting the packing trust. The Kent fortune was made in the cattle and packing business. Kent is president of the Goikunda Cattle Company of Nevada and the packing firm of Kent & Burke, Chicago. The latter concern is one of those independent who, it is alleged, have been discriminated against by Heney's opponents, but who one takes into consideration the promise made by Kent of a $25,000 contribution, his business interest and the capital that might be made by shrewd political managers of other gubernatorial aspirants, one may not go far astray in learning the reason for Heney's withdrawal.

EVASION POSSIBLE.

"Of course, there is no truth that there is any connection, and no one who knows Heney and Kent would even hint of such a thing, but the thing is a political matter. It might be brought out, and both of them are too good politicians to place so potential a weapon in the hands of their opponents."

Heney's hesitancy, however, seemed to have little effect upon Jacobus, his sponsor in the north and chairman of the local Heney non-partisan league, and indications are that the league will give him the endorsement.

Will be given by the Heney Non-Partisan League on Tuesday, and there are rumors that the league will be announced in spite of the Heney despatch yesterday, according to Jacobus.

WOOLWINE'S STRENGTH.

As to some of the other probable candidates, Gavin McNab had this to say about them:

"Woolwine will carry the south unquestionably as far north as Fresno, and would have given Heney a close race in that section if both of them had run in the primaries. Woolwine is not as well known in the north, but he will be a hard man to beat, as the south is determined that the next governor of California will come from the south side of the Tehachas."

DAVID MAY RUN.

If Heney becomes a candidate Mayor John L. David will probably be his running mate at the August primaries, it was strongly indicated today. Should Heney finally determine not to run it is very possible that the Oakland Mayor may go out for the office of chief state executive.

"Friends of the Mayor have been receiving requests from different parts of the state and it is already planned that a delegation shall make a tour in the near future to 'feel out' the situation and the chances for the Mayor becoming a likely candidate."

As a running mate for Heney the Oakland Mayor is considered as a most logical candidate for Lieutenant-Governor. Heney appeared in Oakland three years ago in furtherance of the David campaign for Mayor and when Heney spoke here in behalf of the last candidacy of President Wilson Mayor David was beside him on the platform. They are closely allied in their political affiliations, the Mayor's friends declare.

HIGGINS SPEAKS.

While Mayor David, when seen today, would make no definite statement, he referred all inquiries to his secretary, Preston L. Higgins. The attitude of Higgins was strongly indicative that the move to introduce the Mayor to the people of the state in the near future may be started.

"While the name of the Mayor is known throughout the state, he has never done any state politics," said Secretary Higgins, "and consequently he has no political enemies in other parts. Should he go into the fight he will have a message to deliver to the people of California and one thing is certain—that they will sit up and take notice. The Mayor is an aggressive campaigner. We have received many commendatory messages from different parts of the state since the recall election and it is evident that the people elsewhere were keeping an eye upon Oakland."

"Oakland is now in the limelight in a commercial way and the future development of the city is assured. It is attracting attention everywhere, and favorably so. The friends of the Mayor are now casting about over the political field and it is not unlikely that he may become a candidate for either governor or lieutenant-governor."

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 8.—Despite word from Francis J. Heney that he is not making the campaign for governor of California, Heney admirers here refuse to give up the ship. Heney's statement is not taken as a refusal that he will ultimately "hear the call" of the state supporters and make the race in their behalf. Preparations on that basis are not to be discontinued.

"REMEMBER TUSCANIA!"
U. S. SLOGAN

LONDON, Feb. 8.—"Remember the Tuscania!" will be an irresistible call to the colors and battle cry of victory for the Americans in the war, London newspapers declared today.

All editorial comment sympathized with America over the Tuscania dead and demanded most strenuous measures for speeding up the fight against the U-boats. Increased shipbuilding was urged. Newspapers proclaimed the confidence of the allies that the submarine problem can be conquered.

"The U-boat which sank the Tuscania did a bad day's work for Germany," said the Express. "America's mind was in the war before. Now her soul is enlisted against the Kaiser. Remember the Tuscania! will be an irresistible call to the colors and battle cry."

The Telegraph declared it was not believed the enemy's undersea offensive against the essential line of communications between the United States and the front would meet with a cumulative success, "but we must be prepared, perhaps, for a long period of ups and downs and conflicts. This has become a war of transport—particularly sea transport."

"Statesmen who are inclined to be optimistic over the submarine campaign should keep their lips closed," warned the Chronicle. "A bad week follows every such statement."

BRITONS REGRET.

LONDON, Feb. 8.—The British newspapers united in expressing sympathy with America and in paying tribute to the gallantry of the soldiers on the Tuscania.

The Express took the view that the United States has now enlisted her very soul in the war against Germany and declared that it was a bad day's work for the Kaiser when his submarine sent down the transport.

The Daily Telegraph warned that a long period of ups and downs must be expected, but doubted if Germany's submarine fleet could seriously cripple America's lines of communication across the Atlantic.

HUNTHIEF CAUGHT SAVED BY LOVER
 SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8.—(Post) A discharged naval recruit who had known her son in the navy, George Kleinsfelder, a German youth of 21 years, called on Mrs. Lillian Starr, 1124 O'Farrell street, yesterday, and after bringing her news of her son, Harold, departed with jewelry valued at $1200. He was arrested early this morning by Detectives McGrath and Healy after pawing one of the diamond rings in a waterfront pawnshop. The rest of the jewelry was found in his possession. He was booked at the city prison on a charge of robbery.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8.—Mrs. Hazel Holts, 20 years old, and her sweetheart, J. C. Grover, aged 28, are in a hospital today recovering from effects of submersion in the waters of the bay following the young woman's attempt to commit suicide and Grover's successful dive to the rescue.

Mrs. Holts has been despondent of late and last night, after telling her troubles to Grover, hastily left home. Grover, fearing she might endeavor to end her life, followed her to a wharf. Before he could interfere she jumped into the water. He rescued her, being aided by a watchman.

CITY FILES COMPLAINT ON GAS RATE

Complaint that the present rates charged Oakland consumers for gas by the Pacific Gas and Electric Company are too high was filed with the San Francisco Commission today in anticipation of further hearing on the company's application for an increase of rates which will be heard on February 11. The complaint was signed by the city attorney, who was authorized to do so in behalf of the city by the council.

The points brought out in the cross-complaint are:

"The rates charged in Oakland are unreasonable and discriminatory compared with rates charged by said company in other cities, particularly San Francisco and Los Angeles."

"(a) The gas distribution system of the Oakland plant is operated with less waste or leakage of gas than at any of the other plants of said company, suffering no loss and duplication of equipment due to the consolidation of four or more distinct companies each operating separately under a distinct franchise as the gas is in neighboring cities."

WILL REDUCE COST.

"(b) The Jones gas generators, provided for in the capitalization of said company, will considerably reduce cost of production of gas in the Oakland plant, offsetting the advance in fuel and other production costs and enabling it to produce gas cheaper in Oakland than in any other city."

"In view of the above facts Oakland consumers should be charged not to exceed 85 per cent of the schedule of rates adjudged reasonable and compensatory for gas sold within the city and county of San Francisco."

"That the railroad commission's gas engineers should investigate the most reasonable quantity of heat units to ascertain the most efficient and economical standard of heat units capable of being manufactured by the generators of this company at its Oakland plant in order to give Oakland consumers the maximum value for each dollar's worth of charge."

ASK HEAT UNIT BASIS.

"The gas company is to be ordered to maintain a reasonable maximum and minimum amount of heat units and the charges to the consumers should be based upon the average daily heat units, the consumer being allowed a reduction in instances where heat falls below the standard prescribed by the railroad commission's order."

"Said company has an accumulation of over fifty thousand tons of lamp black, 'pure carbon,' which is capable of being compressed into fuel in the form of briquettes, and that there is a ready market for such briquettes in Oakland and San Francisco, the supply in San Francisco having become entirely exhausted, and the price now charged is 45 per ton, which is exorbitant, as the only cost to the company is in molding the same into briquettes, as the cost of the production of the carbon is paid for by the gas consumers and charged against its operating expenses."

"That these briquettes ought and could be sold at a profit for not to exceed 25 per ton, or delivered, or not to exceed 25 per ton delivered within the Oakland city limits."

"That the release of this large accumulation of lamp black or carbon would do away with the necessity of retreating over $100,000 worth of land in Oakland, which could be sold at an enormous profit to the company or removed from the category of operating property, placing it subject to taxation."

IS FRUIT JUGGLER

From the grand opera stage of Turin and Milan to the Oakland commission market, this is the jump taken by Tony Sabatino, former first tenor of La Scala, idol of the music lovers of Turin, Milan and other Italian cities, and now a produce salesman.

Sabatino came to America some years ago, but found that opera was not loved here as in his native land. He decided to enter business. Now he sings the aria from "Il Pagliaccio" or "Spirito Gentile" from "Favorita" as he juggles lug boxes of fruit.

"And I'm happier than when I was an operatic matinee idol," he declares. He is employed by the Harris Company in the local commission market, and says he will never go back to the stage.

READY FOR WHIST

All arrangements have been completed for the whist tournament to be given in the Knights of Columbus hall by the Young Ladies' Sodality of St. Leo's church. No efforts have been spared to make the affair a social as well as a financial success. After the whist dancing will follow under the auspices of "The Piedmontese" music being furnished by the St. Mary's College. The following is the committee in charge: Rev. Edgar Boyle, Mrs. R. H. Hammond, Misses Basile Johnson, Amy Thornton, Daisy Keller, Helen Walsh, Loretta Donnelly and Teresa Pinion. Miss Kassie Kelly will have charge of the score girls.

FIX RICE PRICE

Through a voluntary agreement with the United States food administration for California, rice millers of the state will pay growers four cents per pound for paddy rice, it was officially announced today following a conference between the millers and food officials.

This marks an increase of about one-half cent a pound over previous offers, it was said, and the new price is approximately that demanded by the growers, for whom the price concession was gained as a measure to insure a banner acreage for this year.

Getting Rid of Colds.

The easiest and quickest way to get rid of a cold is to take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. This preparation has been in use for many years and its value fully proven. No matter what remedy you use, however, care must be taken not to contract a second cold before you have recovered from the first one, and there is serious danger in this. A man of middle age or older should go to bed and stay in bed until fully recovered. It is better to stay in bed three days at the start than three weeks later on, or else to Osgood Bros. Drug Store. 2 SUSPECTS HELD; MAY BE INTERNED

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8.—Charged as being enemy aliens, Rolf Bartel, a German 38 years of age, assistant storekeeper at the Lane Hospital, and Bernhard Loeber, also a native of Germany, 20 years of age, and an expert electrician, in the employ of the United Railroads, are in the city prison as a result of presidential warrants which arrived today and which may cause their internment at Fort McDowell during the period of the war.

The investigation and arrest which was made by Department of Justice operative George Harv revealed that the men had been members of the crew of the steamer Sierra Cordova which supplied the German raiding fleet sunk off the Falkland Islands by the British fleet early in 1915. Bartel is also alleged to have been a member of the crew of the raider Crown Prince Wilhelm, which was interned at Newport News early in the war and escaped from the internment camp. The men tell conflicting stories, but the department is particularly interested in the motive behind the alleged false oath made by Loeber before the local draft board No. 4. He indicated his willingness to serve in the army selected by the draft, gave his age as 24 and stated his desire to be placed in the aviation division.

Federal authorities refused to discuss any angle of the government case against the two men pending a further investigation of their local activities. Loeber resided at 608A Haight street.

SCOUTS TO SHOW DETAILS OF WORK

To carry on the war work of the Boy Scouts of America, as urged by President Wilson, a campaign for men to lead the Boy Scouts and for money to carry on the work starts today throughout the United States.

The Scout parade tomorrow noon will illustrate the war time activities of the Boy Scouts in the Red Cross, the Liberty Bonds, despatch bearing, war gardening and auto-ambulance.

JURY WILL REPORT

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 8.—The special session of the United States district court, set to be held here yesterday, has been postponed today because of the inability of United States District Judge William C. Van Fleet of San Francisco to come here today. The grand jury will report its findings in the inquiry into the activities of the 53 alleged industrial workers of the World, taken into custody in connection with the investigation of the attempted dynamiting of the home of Governor William D. Stephens here the night of December 17, 1917.

SLIDE HITS TRAIN

REDDING, Feb. 8.—A freight train was stopped by a landslide that struck it in the middle near here. As the train howled along three miles north of Keswick a rush of mud came down the mountain side.

BRIBERY CHARGED

SAUSALITO, Feb. 8.—Robert A. Wilson, deputy sheriff of Marin county and a former speed cop, has been arrested and charged with accepting a bribe of $10 from Sibert Larsen, an employee on a Northwestern ferryboat. Wilson was released on $1000 bail by Justice Paul Helmore.

According to the police, Wilson arrested Larsen in a saloon in Sausalito and took him to the door of the jail at San Rafael, where he took the bribe and let Lawson go. District Attorney Edward I. Butler said yesterday that after many complaints had been made against Wilson he had asked for his resignation from the traffic service. Wilson lives in Larkspur, is married and has three children.

NEW DRAFT RULE

SAN RAFAEL, Feb. 8.—The second district selective draft appellate board at San Rafael has called the attention of registrants to regulations which explain the classification of married men, which will be exercised in the future by both local and appellate exemption boards.

The regulations are:

"If a registrant has both a wife and children, but there are such other sources of support available that the removal of the registrant will not deprive the dependent of reasonably adequate support, he is to be placed in subdivision A of class 2."

"If a registrant has a wife but no children, and there are such other sources of support available that the removal of the registrant will not deprive the wife of reasonably adequate support, he goes in class 1, as not being included in any other division in the schedule."

Phosphate Will Strengthen Your Weak Nerves

DRUGGISTS SUPPLY IN TABLET FORM AND FURNISH RE-CEIVE BINDER GUARANTEE SATISFACTION OR MONEY BACK

Weak nerves rob men and women of all the joy of life and quickly reduce the strong and robust to a condition which is pitiable in the extreme. This condition is brought about slowly and stealthily in the majority of cases, and the poor sufferer fails to realize what is wrong until faulty memory, indigestion, lack of desire for work or recreation, insomnia or some other unmistakable symptom indicates weak nerves. It is then that many people make the big mistake of resorting to the use of so-called nerve tonics, alcoholic stimulants or drugs. Nothing could be more harmful or more dangerous. The nerves are weak and exhausted; they need food and nourishment—not drugs that will lash them into temporary activity and then leave them and they will become strong again and your health will improve in consequence. That is the advice of present-day physicians and specialists and the nerve food they recommend is just one 3-gr. tablet of pure bitro-phosphate taken during or immediately after every meal. Simple advice, but its excellence has been proved over and over again, and as a package containing sufficient bitro-phosphate tablets for two weeks' treatment can be obtained from any druggist at reasonable cost, the remedy is within the reach of every sufferer from weak nerves. Moreover, the whole risk of the trial is assumed by the manufacturers, for every package of bitro-phosphate tablets is accompanied by a binding guarantee of satisfaction or money back. It is sold in this city by the Owl Drug Co., and all good druggists.—Advertisement.

No More Catarrh

A Guaranteed Treatment That Has Stood the Test of Time.

Catarrh cures come and catarrh cures go, but Hyomel continues to heal catarrh and abolish its disgusting symptoms wherever civilization exists. Every year the already enormous sales of this really scientific treatment for catarrh grow greater, and the present year alone show all records broken. If you breathe Hyomel daily, as directed, it will end your catarrh, or it won't cost you a cent. If you have a hard rubber Hyomel Inhaler somewhere around the house, get it out and start it at once to forever rid yourself of catarrh. The Owl Drug Company or any other good druggist, will sell you a bottle of Hyomel (liquid) and tell you how to use it, notice how quickly it clears out the air passages and makes the entire head feel fine. Hyomel used regularly will end catarrh, coughs, colds, bronchitis or asthma. A complete outfit, including a hard rubber pocket inhaler and bottle of Hyomel, costs but little. No stomach dosing, just breathe it. It kills the germs, soothes and heals the inflamed membrane.—Advertisement.

U. S. BIRDMAN WINGS FIRST BOCHE PLANE

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, Feb. 8.—Lieutenant (deleted by censor) from White Plains, Mo., had an engagement with the dentist at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning. But he never got that tooth pulled. At that hour, instead of being in a quiet French village, he was battling for his life three miles above the German city of Saarburg, where he shot down the first German aeroplane credited to an American aviator not previously attached to any other army.

The story of how this young Missourian, fresh from the States, who never before had crossed the German line and never before fired a machine gun in the air, accounted for a boche airman reads like wild fiction. Another lieutenant, from Atlanta, and attached to the same aero squadron, obtained permission to accompany a French bombing squadron on a trip of German lines to bomb plants in Saarburg. Lieutenant decided to accompany him to the flying field and see the squadron leave. He then intended to go and have his tooth pulled. The French planes were wheeled from their hangar and made ready to start. Just as they prepared to leave it was discovered that one of the officers had not shown up. He was ill.

ASKED TO GO. "Can't you go?" the pilot asked Lieutenant.

"I never fired a machine gun excepting on the ground, but I'd be tickled to go if I can get permission," the Missourian answered. While the squadron waited he phoned his commander and obtained the necessary permission. He donned some borrowed gear and in a few minutes was off for Germany via the sky. The Atlanta lieutenant flew with one group of French planes and the Missourian with another. The French planes passed over the battle lines without incident and were dropping their bombs on Saarburg when eight Boche airmen climbed skyward to engage them. One German headed straight for the machine carrying the Missourian. The German flew in circles and fired rapidly at the French machine. The latter, having discharged all its bombs, turned toward the French lines.

The Missouri lieutenant took off his heavy fur gloves and got into action with his machine. "I don't know very much about running the thing," he laughingly said afterwards, "so I just worked it like a hose, streaming bullets."

The German machine suddenly crumpled up and fell to the earth like a rocket. The rest of the French machines beat off their enemies and all safely returned. The Atlanta lieutenant had two stiff brushes with two German machines before he got back to camp.

ARE TRANSFERRED. PARIS, Feb. 8.—Ray Clafflin Bridgeman and I. N. Hall, American aviators, have been transferred from the Lafayette Escadrille to the American army. It was announced today. Official confirmation was received today of the death of W. H. Taylor, 23, a member of Lieutenant Guynemer's squadron, in an unequal battle with German airmen. Taylor's home was in Roslyn, L. I.

Bridgeman, whose home is in Lake Forest, Ill., is 22 years of age. He won a sergeant's rank in the escadrille last summer. There is no "I. N. Hall" in the official personnel of the escadrille. The only Hall is Norman Hall of Colfax, Ia., who was decorated with the military medal and war cross last summer, after being wounded in an air battle.

DIES, AGED 109. HILLIARD, Ky., Feb. 8.—Mrs. Christie Stallard, 109 years old, is dead here today.

SAND, SAWDUST USED IN COAL STORAGE FRAUD

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 8.—A barrel, a layer of sand, a layer of sawdust and, at the top, a layer of beautifully dressed turkeys—this recipe carried out in 400 barrels with a trio of local men of German extraction conspired to swindle cold storage concerns in Los Angeles, San Francisco and San Diego out of nearly $60,000. It was learned today. The men piled their barrels of "poultry" in cold storage, and then borrowed various big sums on the receipts. Shortly thereafter they are said to have decamped for South America.

The offices of the district attorneys here and in the north and San Diego were notified and a nationwide search begun, which traced the men to Mexico, presumably bound for South America.

GERMANY FEARS TRADE BOYCOTT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Germany is launching a counter-drive within the Central Empires to offset growing fear of an allied economic boycott after the war. "Secret agreements" to be promulgated by Germany and the greed of other nations will smash any boycott, declares the semi-official Wolff Agency in an article prepared for wide distribution in Germany and Austria, a copy of which has reached this government.

"By compensation agreements it would be easy for Germany to prevail upon countries to make exchanges secretly or openly. If individual states take up business connections with Germany openly or secretly there will be many ways to get raw materials. As soon as the chain of agreements with regard to an economic war is broken, England will be the greatest sufferer. An exchange of goods, not carried on according to natural economic laws, will make the costs of production greater, export more difficult and, in the end, consumption more expensive, all to the detriment of English laborers."

Italy, according to the Wolff article, "can not long do without Germany, its best market for vegetables, fruits, flowers, silks, etc. The natural market for grain, hemp, bran, wood, eggs and many raw materials is Germany. Many countries need goods which they can get only from Germany, such as coal, coke, potash, sulphate of ammonia, chemicals, dyes, etc."

ENDEAVOR WEEK

The Quiet Hour committee at a meeting Sunday closed the special "Christian Endeavor Week," observed in all the societies, with a "decision day." Mr. King presented a talk on the meaning of the decisions and distributed pledges for signature. Miss Irene Mackenzie and Mrs. Ben Small handled other phases of the meeting and Dr. Sislev talked on "Winning Others to Christ." There was an attendance of 134.

ARMY WILL SAVE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—American soldiers en route to France will not be exempted from compliance with the regulations of the food administration providing for wheatless, meatless and porkless days.

Food Administrator Hoover announced that the army transport service formally has adopted a list of menu prepared with an aim to conservation. A food saving program has been framed for the American merchant marine at the request of the chief seamen's unions. The suggested menus, adopted by hundreds of vessels in trans-Atlantic service, were intended only for the crews, but on several lines the same fare has been ordered for the officers' mess.

GRANDFATHER OF TUSCANIA MAN DIES

Charles Edward Ostrander, grandfather of Charles H. Ostrander, who is supposed to have been on the Tuscania, passed away last evening at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. A. Ostrander, 1315 El Centro avenue.

Ostrander was for years employed by the Dennison News Company but had been in poor health for the last year or so. His death was in no way connected with the loss of the transport.

He was a member of Terba Buena Lodge, No. 405, F. & A. M., of Oakland, and was also a life member of the Scottish Rite bodies of this city. The funeral will take place from the Masonic Temple, Twelfth and Washington streets, Oakland, at 3 o'clock on Saturday afternoon under the auspices of Terba Buena, No. 405.

by Arthur Guy Empey

The presence of the R. A. M. C. men did not seem to disturb the rats, because many a hole made in an underground passage, was passed along the column, as to who would be first to take a ride on one of the stretchers. This was generally followed by a wish that, "you were to be the one, the wound would be a 'cushy' Blighty one."

The stretcher bearers, no doubt, were hoping that, if they did have to carry anyone to the rear, they would be small and light. Perhaps, they looked at me as a "cushy" because I could feel an uncomfortable, boring sensation between my shoulder blades. They got their wish all right.

Going up this trench, about every sixty yards or so we would pass a lonely sentry, who in a whisper would wish us "the best of luck, mates." We would blind at him under our breaths, that Jonan phrase to us sounded very ominous.

Without any casualties the minster troop arrived in Suleide Ditch, the front-line trench. Previously, during Part of the Royal Engineers had cut a lane through our barbed wire to enable us to get into No Man's Land.

Crawling through this lane, our party of twenty took up an extended-order formation about one yard apart. We had a tap code arranged for our movements while in No Man's Land, because for various reasons it is not safe to carry on a heated conversation a few yards in front of Fritz's lines. The effect of the right of the line, while I was on the extreme left. Two taps from the right would be passed down the line until I received them, then I would send back one tap. The officer, in receiving this one tap, would know that his order had gone down the whole line, had been understood and that the party was ready to obey the two-tap signal. Two taps meant that we were to crawl forward slowly—and believe me, very slowly—for five yards and then halt to await further instructions. Three taps meant, when you arrived within striking distance of the German trench, rush it and inflict as many casualties as possible, secure a couple of prisoners, and then back to your own lines with the speed of a deer. Four taps meant, "I have gotten you into a position from which it is impossible for me to extricate you, so you are on your own."

After setting Tommy into a mess on the ground, I crawled up to the trench that he is "on his own." This means, "Save your skin in any way possible." Tommy likes to be "on his own" behind the lines, but not during a trench raid.

The star shells from the German lines were falling in front of us, therefore we were safe. After about twenty minutes we entered the star shell zone. A star shell from the German lines fell about five yards in the rear and to the right of me, we hugged the ground and held our breath until it burned out. The smoke from the star shell traveled along the ground and crossed over the middle of the line. Some Tommy sneezed. The smoke had gotten up his nose. We crouched on the ground, cursing the offender under our breath and waited the volley that generally ensues when the Germans have heard a noise in No Man's Land. Nothing happened. We received two taps and crawled forward slowly for five yards, no doubt the officer believed what Old Pepper had said, "Tommy I believe that that part of the German trench is unoccupied." By being careful and remaining motionless when the star shells fell behind us, we reached the German barbed wire without mishap.

Then the barbed wire began to cut our stuff through with about thirty feet in front of you there is a line of Boches looking out into No Man's Land with their rifles lying across the parapet, straining every sense to see or hear what is going on in No Man's Land, because at night, Fritz never knows when a bomb with his name and number on it will come hurtling through the air, aimed in the direction of Berlin. The man on the right, one man in the center, and myself on the extreme left were equipped with wire cutters. These are equipped with soft rubber, not because the German wires are changed with electricity, but to prevent the cutters rubbing against the barbed wire stakes, which are of iron, and making a noise which may warn the inmates of the trench that someone is getting fresh in their front yard.

There is only one way to cut a barbed wire without noise and through costly experience Tommy has become an expert in doing this. You must grasp the wire about two inches from the stake in your right hand and cut between the stake and your hand.

If you cut a wire improperly, a loud snap will come out on the night air like the snapping of a barbed string.

Perhaps this noise can be heard only for fifty or seventy-five yards, but in Tommy's mind it makes a loud noise in Berlin.

We had cut a lone about halfway through the wire when down the center of our line, "twang" went an improper cut wire. We crouched down, cursing under our breath, trembling all over our knees lacerated from the strands of cut barbed wire on the ground, waiting for a challenge and the inevitable volley of rifle fire. Nothing happened. I suppose the fellow who cut the barbed wire improperly was the one who had sneezed about half an hour previously. What we wished him would never make his new year a happy one.

The officer, in my opinion, at the end of the wire should have given the word, "Go." You should have quickly own, get back to your trenches as quickly as possible, but again he must have relied on the word that Old Pepper had given us in the dugout, "Personally I believe that that part of the German trench is unoccupied." Anyway, we got careless, but not so careless that we sang patriotic songs or made any unnecessary noise.

PRESIDENT, HOPE ALLIED PEOPLES

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8.—The complete confidence of the workmen of England and France in President Wilson is the outstanding feature of America's importance in the world war for democracy, according to Colonel Josiah Wedgwood, radical member of Parliament, deputy director of the munitions department of the British government, veteran of the Boer War, of the first battle of Ypres of Gallipoli and the East African campaign under General Smuts, and direct descendant of Josiah Wedgwood, founder of the famous pottery.

Colonel Wedgwood is staying at the Palace Hotel with two of his aides, Captain A. W. Berg and Lieutenant K. Zilliacus.

"I would like to impress upon Americans the great weight their President carries among the allied peoples," he said today. "His utterances have had wide circulation, our Labor party feel that his aims are theirs, and he has their complete confidence. Glad as the English are to see American troops joining the line with them in France, there is no doubt that an even greater asset to the allied cause is the President's leadership, and the hearty co-operation of the workmen of England and France depends largely upon their confidence in the democracy of that leadership."

The workers of England and France are not in this war for any imperialistic aims; they do not want to cut off slabs of territory and hand them over to the different powers, they are tired of secret diplomacy.

"What they do want is a peace based upon justice, on a free intercourse between all nations, and an internationalism such as the League of Nations, for such a peace the working classes of England are prepared to go on fighting, and they believe that is what President Wilson is after."

"To me the most striking thing in the war today is the fact that the English have taken three times as many prisoners from the Germans as the Germans have taken from the English. That shows that not only do we fight for the right but that we know how to do it."

The line along the west front will surely hold against the coming German drive. I do not believe that during 1918 the allies will achieve that preponderance of men, guns and munitions that will enable them to break through the German lines and start the windup. Personally, I think that internal strife in Germany will end the war before we have a chance to whip the enemy on the west."

BERKELEY, Feb. 8.—Daniel Bygel, who is making an active part in the movement to interest Berkeleyans in the United States government war savings stamps, looks on the purchase of these stamps as a desirable investment. Speaking of the matter this morning he said:

"My wife and I are buying these stamps for the benefit of our young children. We find that we are able to put some money in these stamps each week and while we have no misgivings about the future, we have the satisfaction of feeling that if anything should happen to impair our income, the proceeds of these stamps and the certificates for which they are exchanged, would help materially in supporting and educating our little ones."

"It is a mighty comfortable feeling to have, and we certainly enjoy it. I take great satisfaction in recommending these stamps to business men as well as heads of families."

Be Careful in Using Soap on Your Hair
Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain multifaceted coconut oil, for it is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats the most expensive soaps or anything else at all the places you can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.—Advertisement.

IS NOT OBSERVED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—The eight-hour day for railroad workers is not being observed generally, S. E. Heberling, president of the Switchmen's Union, today told the railway wage commission. He said it was because the Adamson law placed no penalty on overtime.

"The only hours-of-work law which is observed," he said, "is the sixteen hour law, violation of which is punishable through indictment."

GENERAL SIBLY

ROCKFORD, Ill., Feb. 8.—Brigadier-General Frederick W. Sibly is at the base hospital at Camp Grant to-day, seriously ill of pernicious anaemia. General Sibly was retired from active service a year ago. He was educated from West Point in 1874 and as a young lieutenant saw desperate fighting when his regiment went to the relief of Major Reno and the surviving remnant of Custer's band in the Little Big Horn in 1876.

ASKS FOR DIVORCE

Because Howard Reed Schultz told her that he was not cut out to be a married man, and demoted her by staying out late at night, according to her complaint, his wife, Mary Schultz, has sued for divorce. She alleges that though he has a good income, her husband refuses to give her sufficient money to maintain the household, and that she has been compelled to resort to borrowing money from her friends. Last night she told the court she was 30 years old and that they were married in 1913.

MRS. KRAMER ROBBED

Burglars entered the apartments of Mrs. Frederick Kramer at 1221 Market street, last night, and obtained jewelry and two watches, according to a report made to the police today.

2 POLICEMEN HURT SPEED "BUG" CAUSE

Patrolmen J. Dukes and Richard Seely were seriously injured shortly after 2 o'clock this morning when a police automobile in which they were riding at Twenty-first and Grove streets was upset in an effort to avoid being run down by a speeding touring car driven by an unidentified man.

The automobile had just turned out of Grove street when it was struck by the big car bearing down upon them going at a terrific rate of speed. To avoid what seemed like an imminent collision the police runabout was suddenly crumpled and swung to one side. The machine tipped over, throwing both men violently to the pavement.

At the Central Emergency hospital Dukes' injuries were diagnosed as a broken collarbone and internal injuries. Seely was declared to have a possible fracture of the pelvis. Early this morning he was removed to Providence hospital for an X-ray examination. His condition is serious.

The policemen did not obtain the number of the speeding machine, which kept on its way.

GO-ED YELL LEADER TO SELL 'SMILAGE'

Miss Marion Sutton, the university co-ed, whose recent appointment as yell leader caused such widespread comment, will demonstrate the wisdom of her selection in that capacity in a rush sale of smilage books at the afternoon and evening performances tomorrow at the Bishop and Hippodrome theaters.

Assisting Miss Sutton will be a group of university girls, composed of the Misses Lucille Burke, Elizabeth Miller, LeVerne Cox, Myrtle Texdahl and Aida Menifia.

Headquarters of the Oakland Military Entertainment Council, which is engaged in the sale of 10,000 smilage books, has been established in the Rotary club home at the Hotel Oakland and in charge of Mrs. A. B. Glasier, assisted by a score of prominent Oakland women.

A smilage book is a book containing their war cry and it is believed that the combination of a splendid cause and charming girls will prove irresistible.

A smilage book is a book containing coupons entitling the holder to admission and seat in any of the theaters or Chautauques in any of the fifty or more camps and cantonments throughout the United States and issued by the commission on training camp activities in national army cantonments and national guard camps.

In each of these places the government has erected 300 and 400 tents seating 1800 each, for the exclusive use of the enlisted men.

The best attractions of the amusement world have been booked for these places and will be witnessed by the soldiers and sailors at a maximum cost of 20 or 25 cents.

But even at this trifling cost, it has been learned that many men will not be able to attend because they are in the habit of sending all their salaries to dependent relatives and for other good reasons. Therefore the government has issued these smilage books and is offering them for sale to friends and relatives of the enlisted men.

The books sell for $1 of twenty coupons and $2 for 100 coupons and it has been found that few things of such comparatively small cost as a dollar smilage book makes such an acceptable gift.

The books can be found at the First National Bank, the Security Bank, the Central National Bank and the Oakland Bank of Savings, also at Tatt & Penner's, H. C. Capwell's, Kahn's and Lehnhardt's, where sales are in charge of committee women from the headquarters of the council.

SUBMIT BRIEFS

The case of the Poultry Producers' Association of Central California against J. R. Bell, Livermore poultryman, who refused to sign up and deliver his eggs to the association, on trial before Superior Judge Fred Wood of Alameda county, sitting in Judge Harris' department, has been submitted on briefs.

The association was formed, it was said in the complaint, at the suggestion of Market Director Harris Weinstein, and contemplated control of the product of a million hens. Bell alleged in his answer that the association was in fact a trust in restraint of trade, and that contrary to representations made by the organizers, it has played into the hands of the commission men and factors who, he claims, have all along fixed the price of poultry products to both the producer and consumer. Bell refused to deliver his eggs to the concern in accordance with the preliminary agreement signed by him and the suit is to compel performance of the contract.

OFFICER IS UPHELD

Commissioner F. F. Jackson of the public health and safety department today rendered his decision in the matter of charges preferred by Charles L. McDulin against Police Sergeant J. J. Sherry, vindicating the police officer.

After a thorough hearing and a careful investigation of the evidence presented, I hereby find Sergeant Sherry not guilty of the charges and exonerate him of all blame in the matter.

This was the text of the decision. The weeks ago Sergeant Sherry was called by neighbors to investigate a disturbance in the McDulin home. He found Mrs. McDulin sitting on the front porch crying and saying that her husband would not let her enter the house because she had refused to sign his draft exemption papers. The investigation developed Sherry forced McDulin to allow his wife to enter the house and McDulin claimed that the police officer had struck him and knocked him down.

DANDRUFF GOES!
HAIR GETS THICK,
WAVY, BEAUTIFUL

Save Your Hair! Double Its Beauty in a Few Moments;
Try This!

Hair Stops Coming Out and Every Particle of Dandruff Disappears.

As you will see from the picture, you can not find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch but what will please you most, will be after a few weeks' use when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is immediate and amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance, and an incomparable tissue softness and luxuriance, the beauty and shimmer of true hair health.

Get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, for a few cents, and prove that your hair
as good as new.

Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them, its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

EARLY GREEN PRODUCE IN CITY MARKETS

New goods, in after the winter, will greet the housewife when she goes marketing tomorrow in Oakland's retail stores. Green peas, from the Imperial valley, for instance, will be a novelty in the local stores, a considerable shipment having arrived today on the commission market, together with a carload of food lettuce in crates, refrigerator-car shipments of new celery and a fair supply of fresh tomatoes, also from the Imperial region, these being of better quality than the old winter goods.

Red apples, too, will be more plentiful on the local market, as shipments from the north were today being sent out to the local stores. A large shipment of extra fancy winter apples also found ready sale in the better class of stores, these to sell at a slightly higher retail price than the average apple of this variety.

TULARE TANGERINES.
New tangerines arrived today from the Tulare region. In the present scarcity of smaller varieties of oranges these sell better than usual.
The little fruit is palatable and as rich in nutriment as an orange, the only difference being in the seeds and a pungent flavor.

Wheat, a substitute for wheat.
In the present food administration plan of selling flour in the grocery stores, will figure at a four-to-one ratio instead of the old "fifty-fifty" plan. In other words each pound of flour must be bought with four pounds of potatoes. If the housewife elects to buy these as a wheat substitute. The other substitutes are still to be sold at a pound-for-pound basis, according to the food administration rulings.

The food administration today issued an appeal to all patriotic householders to serve potatoes more plen-tily, as the supply is plentiful in California. It is hoped by the administration that this will stimulate the planting of a large acreage this year. The order placing potatoes on a four-to-one basis may be followed by even more drastic reforms. No advances in the potato prices will be tolerated, according to Food Administrator Ralph P. Merritt.

NO PORK TOMORROW.
Tomorrow will be "porkless" day in the local retail houses, according to the food administration rulings, and hams, bacon, pork and pork products cannot be sold. Poultry will be high, hovering around the 40-cent price, as the price of 35 cents is being asked today by the wholesalers.
Butchers declare, however, that there will be an adequate supply of beef, mutton and other meats for Saturday's marketing. Some special prices will be offered, especially in the larger markets.

Many varieties of canned goods are due shortly for a rise and Saturday may be a day of price increases. In some classes of canned fruits, vegetables and meats. There is a fair supply of Australian butter, which sells at a slightly lower figure than domestic at the present time. The fresh vegetable market will have arrivals, cabbage, egg plant, brussels sprouts, cucumbers, lettuce, celery, cauliflower, squash, pumpkins and turnips. Hard beans, turnips, beets, radishes, green onions, carrots, bell peppers and a small supply of rhubarb—the latter, however, to be scarce and high.

GOLDSTEIN WILL SPEAK TONIGHT

David Goldstein, secretary of the Catholic Truth Guild and noted lecturer, will speak this evening at 8 o'clock in St. Vincent's Hall, 101 Hundred and First avenue, Elmhurst on "The Truths of the Catholic Religion," under the auspices of the Knights of Columbus. Traveling with Sergeant Arthur E. Corbett of the Ninth Massachusetts Regiment in an auto van blessed by Archbishop William Cardinal O'Connell, of Boston, the lecturer is engaged in a coast-to-coast tour in the interests of the Catholic religion and patriotism.

Goldstein was formerly a prominent member of the Socialist party, having been the first candidate of that political organization for mayor of Boston.
He resigned from the movement thirteen years ago because of his disrespectful attitude toward the church.
He is a convert to the Catholic faith and has been in the Catholic Church since 1907. He has been lecturing on the Catholic view of sociological problems and has been the Boston delegate each year to the American Federation of Catholic Societies.

Tonight's meeting is designed primarily for those who are not Catholics. The speaker will answer questions that may be put to him as to doctrinal and controversial points.

SOLDIER INSURES FOR $10,000; DIES

CAMP FREMONT, Feb. 6.—Private First Class Charles Weib was the first man to die of natural causes at Camp Fremont, according to an announcement today at the camp headquarters. Pneumonia was the cause.
Weib, who took $10,000 insurance four days before his death. Relatives supposed to be in the hospital and have not been located by the authorities.

Eighty-three per cent of the men in cantonment at Camp Fremont have taken out war risk insurance, amounting to $75,000,000, according to an official announcement at camp headquarters today.
Every man in camp who is not in the army has been ordered to attend a meeting to be held in a theater at Menlo Park tomorrow morning to hear arguments for insuring. Officers of the various units have been ordered to see that their units are adequately insured. Each company commander must get reasons from men who are not insured for their failure to protect themselves and their relatives.

TOUCH OF ORIENT AT AD-MASQUE

Giving an Oriental touch to the big pageant at the third annual Ad Masque in the Civic Auditorium next Tuesday evening, forty members of the San Francisco Ad Club, with their ladies, will be presented in Chinese costume. They will be accompanied by the Chinese Six Companies band of forty pieces. The Chinese band boys will also be accompanied by their ladies, and all will appear in gorgeous Oriental garb. The immense dragon, which is the feature of these pageants in San Francisco, will be brought to Oakland and will have a place in the Ad-Masque pageant.

Jack Reber, director of entertainment, states that the program of Kirmess dancing, which is in preparation, will be the finest exhibition of its kind ever seen in Oakland.

The ad stuents committee is receiving reports daily of accessions to the ranks of merchants and manufacturers who will participate in the parade of advertising characters, which promises to be a wonderfully elaborate and spectacular feature.

Reinkens & Wagner are preparing an exceptionally attractive feature, consisting of a gigantic chocolate dyp, in the center of which will appear a prettily little girl in Colonial costume, who will distribute candies made by this firm.

The Kirmess theater will make a feature of "The Planter's Story," a drama well-known by Herman Whitaker, the well-written Oakland author, now in France as war correspondent for The Oakland Tribune. The story has been filmed and will shortly appear on the Kirmess screen.

In the ad stunt parade "The Planter" will be represented by eight mammoth bolls, six feet high and twenty inches deep. Within each boll will be concealed a person costumed to represent a character in the story. The denouement is being kept a carefully guarded secret from the Kirmess people, but the intimacy of the event is that it will be of a striking nature.

GUILTY OF STEALING COAT.
Convicted of stealing $30 from a coat that had been given him to repair, Solomon Mendon, a laborer of Seventh and Clay streets, will be sentenced tomorrow by Police Judge Samuels. The charge was made by
T. F. Chaves of 539 Seventh street.

HIGH HEELS PUT CORNS ON TOES

Tells Women How to Dry Up a Corn So It Lifts Out Without Pain.

Modern high-heeled footwear buckles the toes and produces corns, and many of the thousands of hospital cases of infection and lockjaw are the result of a woman's suicidal habit of trying to cut away these painful pests.
For little sores there can be obtained at any pharmacy a quart of an innocuous of a drug called frezone, which is sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callus without the slight danger or inconvenience.
A few drops applied directly upon the tender aching corn stops the inflammation and shortly the entire corn, root and all, lifts right out. It is a sticky substance, which dries the moment it is applied, and thousands of men and women use it because the corn curls up and comes out without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin. Cut this out and try it if your corns bother you.—Advertisement.

Combing Won't Rid Hair of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon;
pour it into a bottle and rub it enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.
Do this tonight, and by morning most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single speck of it no matter how much dandruff you may have.
You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, silky and soft and look and feel a hundred times better.
You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.—Advertisement.

SENATOR TALKS AT PANTAGES

New records for laugh-making are being made at Pantages this week by one of the cleverest monologue artists on the stage. Francis Murphy, Murphy is a young fellow who has developed what may be termed a "character monologue."

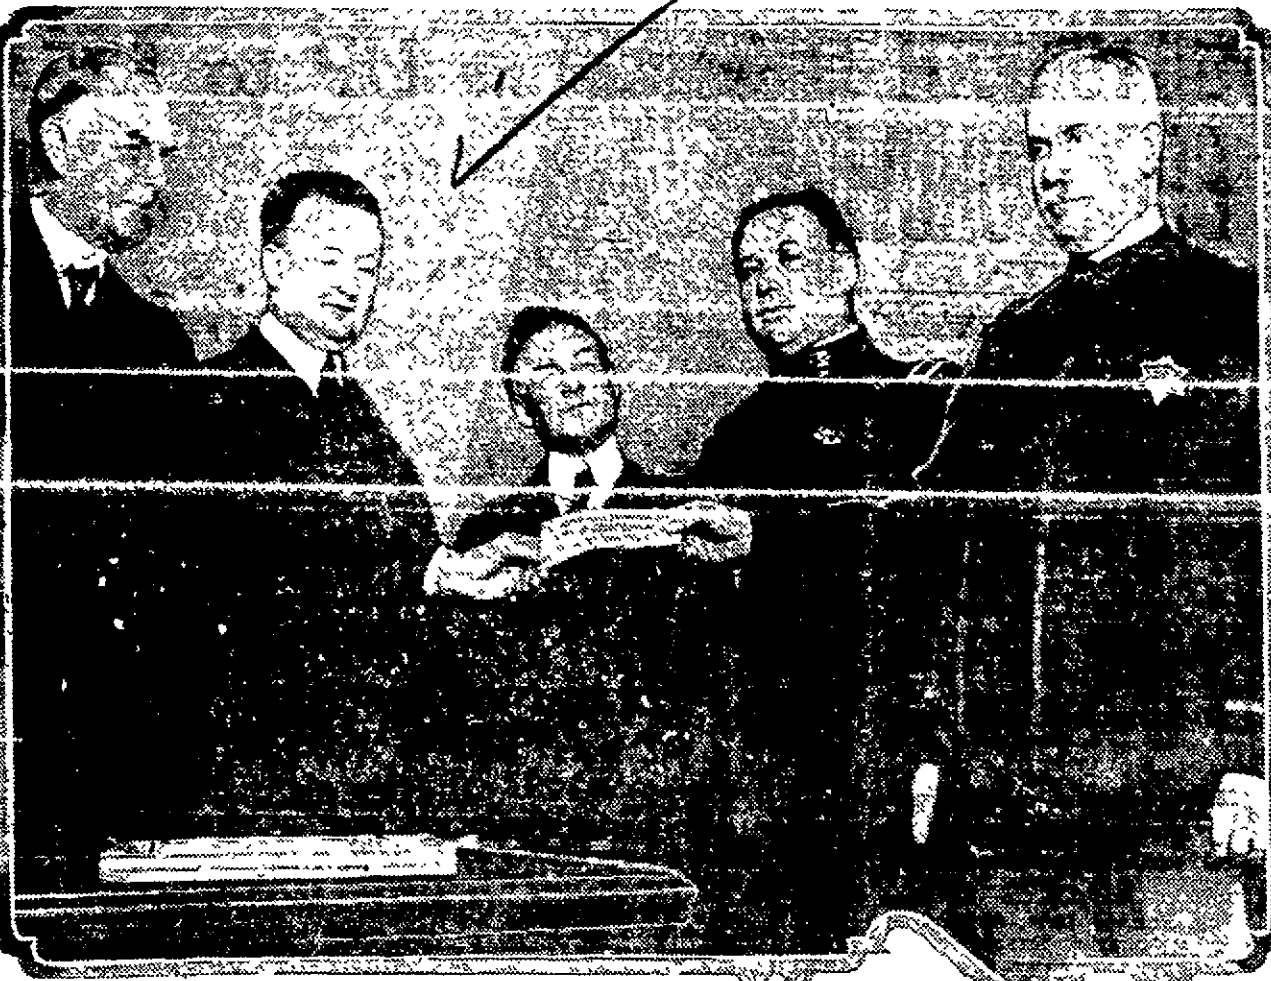

He makes up as a typical politician, bills himself as "The All Senator" and his monologue takes the form of a political harangue. He deals with many of the existing economical and international conditions in a way that brings screams from his audience.

SAYS STATES ALLOW ALIENS TO BALLOT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Introducing a constitutional amendment requiring all persons who vote for members of Congress and presidential electors to be American citizens, Senator Kenyon of Iowa today called the Senate's attention to seven states—Arkansas, Kansas, South Dakota, Nebraska, Missouri, Indiana and Texas—which, he said, permitted aliens to vote. This condition, he said, is "rather shocking."

Vice-President Marshall observed that he thought the number of such states was nine.

Police Association Presents Check For $4359.60 to Red Cross

Impressive Ceremony Marks Delivery of Evidence of Patriotism; Life Membership Acknowledged

Before a large assemblage in the city council chambers yesterday afternoon the local chapter of the Red Cross was presented with a check for $4359.60, representing the net proceeds of the annual ball given last November by the Widows' and Orphans' Aid Association of the Oakland Police Department.

The presentation was made by Senior Captain J. F. Lynch, president of the association, and the check was received in behalf of the Red Cross by Harry East Miller, chairman of the Oakland chapter.

Chief of Police J. H. Nedderman called the meeting to order and introduced Commissioner F. F. Jackson, who, after brief and appropriate remarks called upon Captain Lynch.

Members of the executive committee of the Red Cross were present, including J. Davidson, Dr. H. J. Samuels, Irving Kahn, J. R. Knowland, Miss Helen W. Kimball, Mrs. Dudley Kinsell and Mrs. O. S. Snedigar. Mrs. Fred Boardwell, publicity manager of the Red Cross, was present.

RECITES HISTORY

Captain Lynch recited the history of the movement on the part of the organization which led to the decision to turn over the proceeds of the annual ball to the Red Cross.

"Shortly after we decided to hold the ball war was declared and the patriotic spirit of the members arose to the occasion," said Captain Lynch. "The boys then decided to donate the proceeds to the Red Cross and committees were named to make the affair a success. Through co-operation of all members the ball exceeded the success of the previous year and you all know the result."

"It is with great pleasure that I am now permitted to present this check from the boys in blue, the members of the 'Widows' and Orphans' Aid Association of the police department."

Chairman Miller of the Red Cross accepted the check in behalf of the organization, expressing his thanks for the contribution. He then introduced Joseph R. Knowland as spokesman for the chapter who officially presented to Captain Lynch in behalf of the Red Cross a life membership in the national organization for the association. The document was signed by President Woodrow Wilson, head of the Red Cross. He also presented a set of engrossed and framed resolutions from the Oakland Chapter.

MAKE SACRIFICE.

"The members of the Widows' and Orphans' Aid Association have made a big sacrifice to help the boys in France," said Knowland. "It was a splendid spirit that prompted them to act in this matter. These tokens will always be a symbol of the sacrifice that has been made by those who have banded together for mutual aid."

There were but half a million members of the Red Cross today there are 20,000,000 members all working together in the cause of humanity and it is gratifying to know that Oakland men are doing their share in the sacrifice.

Commissioner Jackson stated that in addition to its contribution to the Red Cross the Widows' and Orphans' Aid Association has purchased $30,000 worth of Liberty Bonds and that nearly every member of the police department has individually purchased bonds ranging in value from $50 to $2500.

"It is a pleasure for me to be at the head of a department that not only responds to every call of the city and the state, but of the nation as well," he said.

A CHILD DOESN'T LAUGH AND PLAY IF CONSTIPATED

Look, Mother! Is Tongue Coated, Breath Feverish and Stomach Sour?

"California Syrup of Figs" Can't Harm Tender Stomach, Liver, Bowels.

A laxative today saves a sick child tomorrow. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, which become clogged up with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, or your child is listless, cross, feverish, breath bad, restless, doesn't eat heartily, full of cold or has sore throat or any other children's ailment, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," then don't worry, because it is perfectly harmless, and in a few hours all this constipation, poison, sour bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. A thorough "inside cleansing" is often all that is necessary. It should be the first treatment given in any sickness.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Advertisement.

Aged Man Clasps Picture of Teuton Victim, Falls Dead

SAN JOSE, Feb. 8.—"I'd crucify the whole German autoc-racy!" shouted a wildly excited and angry white-haired old man to a group of aged men who were discussing the Tuscania disaster yesterday afternoon in St. James Park.

A moment later he had fallen dead. When the body was examined at the morgue soon afterward a small photograph was found tightly clasped in the man's hand. On the back of the picture of a fine looking young man was the inscription, "Alexander Withrow, murdered on the Lusitania." The aged man has not been identified.

"Dug" Fairbanks comes to town tonight

So does Dustin Farnum, William H. Crane, Johnny Judd, Jack Plank, Claude Banty, Miss Winifred Kingston and the rest of the array of movie talent that Fairbanks is to present in the Auditorium theater for the benefit of the Oakland War Camp Community Service fund.

Mayor John L. Davis is going to turn over the keys of the city to the strenuous "Dug" Camp mayor, accompanied by Joseph N. Burroughs, chairman of the War Camp Community Service fund. The fund is creeping toward the $8000 mark, and Fairbanks hopes to bring the total close to the objective of $20,000.

"We can't do too much for the boys in uniform," he says. "You know, folks, they are the lads who are preparing to die, if necessary, for you and me. The War Camp Community Service fund is to provide a place of rest, recreation, home amusement for the boys away from home. Dig and give, I say."

A striking feature of the show will be the Indian dances by Dark Cloud, White Cloud and Neola Mae. The entire proceeds of the affair go to the War Camp Community Service fund. The fund is creeping toward the $8000 mark, and Fairbanks hopes to bring the total close to the objective of $20,000.

Every master plumber, journeyman and apprentice is required to register with the Alameda county examining board between now and March 15 under the provisions of a law passed by the legislature, which provides that every plumber in the State register. Blanks are available at the office of the health department in the city hall, and will be placed in locations available to the labor organizations within the next few days.

According to H. G. Newman, secretary of the examining board for this county, the State registration will in no way conflict with the municipal regulation over plumbers nor the obligation to take out city licenses. It is in addition thereto.

The headquarters of the board has not yet been determined, but it will probably be established in the city hall. The members of the board are Dr. Kirby Smith, H. G. Newman and William Scott.

LISTS OF ALIENS

That the total number of alien German and Austrian enemies in Oakland will fall far short of the estimate made prior to last Monday, when registration commenced, was predicted today by Chief of Police Xodderman, who is in charge of the registration for this city. The number of registrants to date is less than 250, and it is believed that the total at the end of the registration period Saturday evening will not be more than 400 or 500. It was previously estimated that there were approximately 1500 alien enemies in Oakland.

At the conclusion of the registration period the Federal agents will check up the list with the lists they have on in their possession at the accumulation of months of information gathered by the secret service, for the purpose of ascertaining if any known aliens have failed to register.

BOND IS SEIZED

RICHMOND, Va., Feb. 8.—Federal Judge Vaughn has ordered the confiscation of the $2,000,000 annual bond given last year by the Imperial German government in the controversy over the English prize ship Appam. The fund is to be turned over to A. Mitchell Palmer, custodian of alien enemy property.

CAPTURE OF JERUSALEM CELEBRATED

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8.—The spirit of a people re-united, of a racial hope approximated, of a century-old dream changing from a phantom outline to a cameo-clear reality—this was the keynote of the remarkable meeting of Jewish people, and others, who met last night in Scottish Rite hall in celebration of the wresting of Jerusalem, Christendom's sacred city of the east, from the hands of the infidel.

There was a solemnity about the affair that had its root far back in the days of the Exodus. Scattered through the audience here and there, were bearded patriarchs, whose eyes mirrored the haunting anguish and hunger for the "home-land" that has been one of the sorrowful heritages of the race through all the years. They were men who had been taught as children to hope and pray for the "deliverance," and who through all the festivals, feast days, and weeks of religious observance, have obeyed the injunction.

OF EVERY RACE.

They were men of every race, who, through the years, have been waiting in every country, for the time when the Jews, like the other nations of the world, might claim the land of their fathers'—the land of the greatest single figure of all history—as once again the race's own. The hope has never died, and the spirit has never been broken, and last night, with the supreme realization that a finger-tip's length away, the submerged feeling of years rolled up like an ocean wave and swept even those not of the Jewish faith off of their feet.

The keynote of the occasion was summed up in the address of Dr. Benjamin Mossinson, of Jaffa, Palestine, fresh from the scene and sights of Biblical days. In a stirring appeal for unity of the Jewish people, he drove home the need of the race for Jerusalem, not for what Jerusalem would bring them but for what they could give the world when they had once again after all the centuries of wandering, come back to the city of their most cherished traditions and memories. He said:

CREATIVE ELEMENT.

"The world wants the Jews as a creative element, because the Jews have shown what they could give when they had a soil of their own—a Bible.

"The Christian world created Shylock. It took from us our agriculture and closed to us all constructive work, leaving only the narrow field of money-making. Then it beggared us by robbing us of our past and our future. We have revived our past and the world has begun to believe in our future.

"Not all Jews will go to Palestine. There will be two elements, those that have to go, driven by persecution, and those that want to go, driven by the desire to create a new, free, beautiful Jewish life there. Give to this people a place to develop its own art and music and science and a home shall come again from Jerusalem."

There were many distinguished guests at last night's reunion of the Jewish people. Among them were:

Governor William D. Stephens, Rev. William P. Sullivan, representing Archbishop Edward J. Hanna, Professor Henry Morris Stevens of the University of California, Supervisor Ralph McClellan and Rabbi Martin A. Meyer. Otto Irving, Wisconsin, presided.

The meeting was characterized by an intensity of feeling scarcely ever seen in a gathering of that nature. Stirring appeals by Colonel Josiah Wedgwood of the British Army to make Palestine the germ of a true nationalism, and British Consul General Carnegy Ross for national war service, brought a storm of cheers.

Resolutions expressing loyalty to President Wilson and gratitude to the British government for its pronouncement in support of the Jewish people, and calling on all Jews to co-operate in the Zionist movement, were adopted.

Brewers Approve Amendments Favor Sale of Light Wine, Beer

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8.—Approval of the proposed amendments to the Rominger bill was given today by the California State Brewers' Association, which at the same time announced that it had broken away from any affiliation with the saloon interests and was prepared to back regulations which would put the saloons out of business. The statement of the Brewers' Association was in reply to a letter from a number of prominent Californians, proposing certain amendments to the Rominger bill, with a view to having the measure submitted to the voters next November.

The Brewers' Association, which represents 95 per cent of the brewing industry of California, went on record as favoring the sale of light wines and beers, without meals, in cafes, and against the existence of saloons.

The association was instructed to outline the brewers' position as follows:

"To record the association's full agreement with your proposed solution of the question, with your statement of indisputable facts in that connection and with your objections to the Rominger act in its present form.

"To declare to you absolutely that the brewers' interests are not in alliance with the whiskey interests, and to assure you without equivocation that this association, representing 95 per cent of the beer production of this state, will support the Rominger act, as modified by your proposed amendments.

"Places where hard liquors can be obtained by the glass existed in this state before ever a gallon of wine or beer was manufactured in this state. While such places, commonly called saloons, existed, the Continental garden or cafe, dealing only in the purveying of non-alcoholic or mild alcoholic beverages for refreshment, could not live. The wine man and the brewer, confronted by these conditions, were compelled to use the saloon as their only medium of sale for their products.

"This association does not deny that out of this business intercourse and relationship grew up a certain interdependence and community of interest. This was inevitable. It does not deny that it was interested in the welfare of the saloons as the one place prescribed by the custom of the people where they would go to obtain wine or beer.

"It does not deny that the abolition of the saloon involves a very heavy financial loss to the brewing industry, a loss which is willingly borne by us. Brewers have in the past invested in the aggregate considerable sums of money in saloon places. It does not deny that it opposed the legislative enactment of the Rominger act. It did so because of the very hardships, the very inequalities and injustices your letter points out."

GLASS OF SALTS
CLEANS KIDNEYS

If Your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers You, Drink Lots of Water.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild harmless salts which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In twenty-four hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts: take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the blood in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and headache.—Advertisement.

THE TUSCANIA LESSON.

The incidents resulting from the sinking of the troop transport Tuscania by a German submarine will comprise in their recording a not inglorious chapter in America's military history. The 2179 officers and men aboard the sinking ship behaved as soldiers; that is the sum of the requirements of military rules and traditions.

That of the military personnel only seventy-three men are still listed as missing is a proof that splendid discipline and courage was shown by the soldiers when the transport was sinking. That of these missing some forty are officers is a reminder of the gallant devotion to duty and the spirit of self-sacrifice that guides the American army officer. These officers were among the very last to leave the ship, seeing to it first that the sick and the enlisted men were, as many of them as possible, in the lifeboats. Their example contrasts strikingly with the practice of the officers of the enemy, who drive their men into danger and when expedient flee ahead of them from danger.

The percentage of the men on the transport now recorded as lost is remarkably small and a cause for heartfelt thankfulness. The military value to the enemy of sinking the Tuscania and assassinating a handful of its passengers will be a minus quantity, for the deed of savage ruthlessness will steel the heart of America to greater energy and determination to win.

Californians have been awakened to a sharper realization that the war belongs to all the citizens. Several hundred men from this State were with the units aboard the lost ship and a few of them are still unaccounted for. Californians have been with practically every unit, with every transport load of troops, sent to Europe. Their number on French soil is very large. They are sharing bravely and joyfully the labors and the risks of all the forces of the United States.

This suddenly vivified fact should spur men and women to more earnest effort. Every person engaged in government work, or in the government service at home, or in war auxiliaries, or in any way in a position to co-operate with and help the government, should give a full day's work each day to his or her duty.

Ships are greatly needed, various kinds of war material and supplies are required, production of foodstuffs is urged, Red Cross supplies and funds and knitted goods for soldiers and sailors have been requested, release of railroad cars as quickly as possible for further service is demanded. Let all citizens do something all the time, according to the government's instruction, to advance these objects. In this way they can help the men "over there" to win the war quickly.

"INEFFICIENCY MUST GO."

Always sensitive of criticism, Mr. William C. Redfield, Secretary of the Department of Commerce, has taken definite notice of the speech Senator Chamberlain of Oregon, the Democratic chairman of the military affairs committee of the Senate, delivered in New York, in which this phrase was included: "The military establishment of America has fallen down . . . it has almost stopped functioning . . . because of inefficiency in every bureau and in every department of the government of the United States."

Senator Chamberlain has subsequently explained that he intended reference only to the military establishment. But Secretary Redfield did not wait for the explanation before transmitting the senator's views to his subordinates—in a circular letter. It is not because of the differences between the opinions of two leaders of the administration that this letter is important, but because of the timely advice Mr. Redfield gives for all government workers. Senator Chamberlain was confessedly extravagant in his choice of terms; probably he was without justification of any kind for his criticism. THE TRIBUNE hopes so. But, however that may prove to be, Mr. Redfield's observations are not out of place. They should be known beyond the Department of Commerce. Hence the following excerpt:

"We in this department form no part of the military establishment, though in every branch we are in full co-operation with it. We are included, however, under the charge that inefficiency in every bureau and in every department has led to the result said to exist. If it exists it is said to be at least in part our fault. All departments, all bureaus, are sentenced together. Such a statement from such a source must . . . be given weight. It is either true or false as regards ourselves. What lesson can we learn from it?"

"Candidly, I had not believed any such sweeping condemnation could be justly made of our mutual service. . . . But this is beside the mark. Our work, if good, will speak for itself. We have neither duty nor right of self-praise. What I ask you, every one of you, to consider for yourself is whether this charge is true of you, of your division or bureau, of your part, whatever it be, in our common work."

For now more than ever must we do our work well. The slacker in work, if such there be, plays Germany's game. Inefficiency is a sin against your country. Red tape, unless required by law, is an offense against patriotism. Let us speak plainly. If inefficiency exists it must cease or the ineffective ones must go. This is no hour for hesitancy about persons."

THE SINGER.

A few seconds after a lifeboat heavily laden with soldiers left the side of the sinking Tuscania, a stout-lunged trooper broke into that popular little camp dirty, "Oh, You've Got to Cut that Out."

If the Prussian mind was not composed of what Mr. John R. Rathorn calls "green blubber" this incident would be of far more significance to the kaiser than the damage wrought by his assassins in the Irish Sea.

There is something unconquerable about the soldier who sings in the dark shadow as well as in the bright sunshine. Certainly he will never be coerced and cowed by swashbuckling frightfulness.

THE GUARANTEED DIVIDEND.

When Congress enacts the law providing for carrying out President Wilson's recommendation that during the period of operation by the government the railroads be guaranteed net operating income equal to the average of the last three fiscal years, the government will be pledged to pay the roads about $945,000,000 as earnings applicable to the payment of dividends to the owners. This will be in addition to the guarantee to keep the roads and equipment in a state of repair equal to the condition prevailing December 31st last and to make necessary improvements.

The approximate dividend to be guaranteed is calculated by the Interstate Commerce Commission, which has kept a record of the operating income of the various roads for the last three years. It is in excess of the earnings for 1915, but less than those of 1916 and 1917. On the estimated valuation of twenty billion dollars, which may be accepted as approximately correct, for all the railroads of the country, it is at the rate of 4 1/2 per cent. It will give practically the same rate of return on the average per mile operating costs of the roads.

Under normal conditions no part of this guarantee of nearly a billion dollars should have to be appropriated from the revenues of the country. The roads would be expected to earn the average dividend and a surplus for upkeep and improvements under government operation, as they probably would under private operation. But it is necessary to bear in mind that the plan of the government for administering the railroads during the war emergency is materially different from that followed in the past by the private operators.

The government proposes and is obliged to shift traffic currents and facilities to more adequate and direct routes than was possible under private management. It will necessarily neglect the business of many lines in order to obtain greater speed and quantity in deliveries. The road benefited by the additional traffic ought to earn larger dividends, but it does not follow that the increase in earnings will be equal to the loss of the roads that suffer heavy diversion of traffic. If there is a loss of total net earnings through this plan of operation the government will have to make up the deficiency out of the public funds. This will be a proper charge against the war.

The bill to carry out the obligations of government operation will come up for discussion in the Senate Monday. It limits the period of federal control to eighteen months after peace is declared, it being the view of the Senate interstate commerce committee that the bill is purely a war measure and that the question of permanent government ownership of the railroads should be left entirely open for future action.

It will be recalled that this view was expressed by THE TRIBUNE several weeks ago. The permanent policy of government ownership of the railroads cannot be fairly approached at this time and Congress should not yield to the clamor of theorists and propagandists to use the drastic war decree of the President as a lever for forcing a permanent policy on the country. The country now has the opportunity of experimenting in railroad operation, and nothing will be lost by awaiting the results of that experiment. The interstate commerce committee, in reporting the bill, admirably expressed the situation in the following paragraph:

"It is possible that certain conditions may arise from federal control which will need adjustment before the properties are returned to their owners, and a reasonable period should intervene in which these conditions may be met and adjusted. It may be that the nation will be unwilling to return to conditions obtaining before the assumption of federal control. Legislation may be demanded radically changing the relation of the government to the railroads from that now existing. These problems will require time for careful and deliberate consideration."

NOTES and COMMENT

A New York scientist has figured out that a quart of milk contains more energy than three and a half pounds of lobster. But lobsters yield valuable by-products. Even unscientific chorus girls have extracted diamonds from them.

The question now is asked by a San Francisco, "Who owns the tunnel?" There may be a question as to whose it is, but there is none as to who paid for it.

Carranza sends the Kaiser a congratulatory "Happy Birthday" in the instance of birds of a feather communing together? Any way, it is a case of "birds."

The country is beginning to feel that there is plenty and too much rag-chewing over Secretary Baker's administration of the War Department. If the affairs of the War Department are not susceptible of off-hand elucidation and defense they are too involved and should at least be simplified.

The foreshadowing that the Monday coal-closing order would be rescinded turns out to be a sort of weather-prophet prediction. The order stands and many captains of industry, carrying on big works, keep on fuming.

The testimony in a divorce case goes to the extent of disclosing that the defendant husband ate four eggs for breakfast. That settles it. He was heading the family straight to financial ruin.

This fish controversy has always interested us. The fact that it requires two columns of space to explain why fish are twice as dear as they were before the official meddling aggravates our curiosity.

The stock and bond holders of the Northern Electric may have come out of it somewhat bedraggled, but the attorneys concerned have no ground for complaint. There is always a ray of sunshine in every disaster.

That the Hun has a job of magnitude to spill the beans for this country is indicated in the news that the federal government has commandeered 15,000,000 pounds of them in Pacific Coast ports.

Secretary Lane announces that sheep will not be allowed to graze in Yosemite Park this year. Reasons are that they eat flowers and frighten wild animals. Sheep notoriously scare wolves, bears and wildcats till they shiver their heads off.

So far as fair and reasonable observation goes, the story that sinister influence is at work to make government control of railroads a failure is not sustained. On the contrary, there have been many signs that big railroad interests are pleased with the prospect of government assuming responsibilities which in this war emergency have been found onerous—labor troubles and State regulation, for instance.

The spirit that is consoled for its own disappointments by the vaguely possible disappointment of others is admirable. Almost like that is the disposition manifest across the bay over the delay in proceeding with the naval base project at Alameda.

A long period of litigation is ahead if it is true that the city is to declare forfeited terminal lands granted the Western Pacific. Provisions stipulating such forfeiture ought to be plain, but it will probably be found that the franchise is full of mazes and intricate twists, which it will take years to explore.

A marriage, a coronation and a riot all in quick succession constitute an unusual royal conjunction. They happened in the Roman empire. The many other complications of the occasion indicate that things are not going any better with crowned heads here than over there.

NO COMPETITION.

To the Editor of The Tribune:

I have been watching, with interest, the discussion of the fish situation, in your columns.

Being an experienced deep sea fisherman from the north, having been in command of several different vessels operating from Seattle and Portland, fishing principally for halibut, I was considerably surprised when I found there wasn't any vessels operating from San Francisco bay for halibut, ling cod, rock cod and black cod, which I know from experience can be caught within four days' steaming with a good power schooner from this bay.

So, being a stranger and with a view to interesting somebody with capital in a fishing schooner, I made a few enquiries about market conditions and found that even if I should bring a cargo of fish, which could be done every two weeks, I would be unable to sell them, as there are no competitive wholesale buyers located on the bay. And the wholesalers control all the retailers.

I further notice that there isn't any supply of frozen fish to be drawn from in the bad fishing weather seasons, such as is on at present.

All that is required to properly regulate the fish prices of the bay cities is the organization of an independent company, with ample capital to handle fish as they should be handled, and then send two modern, up-to-date fishing boats to sea. As soon as an open market was guaranteed there would be no scarcity of fish at any time in California.

I want to say further, I haven't seen one single fishing vessel sail from this port which could be classed as an up-to-date vessel, or was equipped with men and gear to catch deep sea fish of the large and better varieties, which are still plentiful.

DRAFT BILL FAVORABLY REPORTED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Favorable report on the War Department's bill amending the selective draft law to require registration of men as they reach 21 years and basing quotas on the number of men in class one, instead of on state populations was ordered today by the Senate Military committee.

The proposal to exempt men as they reach 31 years if they have not been drafted, which was opposed by Provost Marshal General Crowder, was not included in the bill.

An amendment proposed by Senator New of Indiana to require registration of youths at nineteen years and over, also was rejected.

Another bill favorably reported which affects the draft would authorize the President in any emergency to call into immediate military service skilled experts in industry and agriculture, regardless of classification, residence or quota.

SEEK EARLY BEGINNING FOR MUNICIPAL FREE MARKET

Directors Are Anxious For Launching of Plan

The board of municipal market directors appointed by Mayor John L. Davis went on record last night as favoring the establishment of a municipal free market in Oakland as soon as funds can be made available by the city council. The meeting was called by W. N. Jenkins, president of the board, and was taken up with consideration and discussion of the present situation in Oakland and the need of a genuine municipal market.

In a formal announcement concerning its findings the municipal market board stated today that it had ascertained from a careful study of the market problem, and from correspondence with the directors of municipal markets in many large cities, that these markets have proved a great success.

WHEN MONEY IS READY.
"The Oakland municipal market will be opened," President Jenkins of the board announced after the meeting last night, "at any time when sufficient funds are made available for this purpose. The board has decided to keep in close touch with this work.

"Assurance has been given by a large fishing concern that fresh fish could be brought into Oakland each day and sold to the public for an amount considerably less than the regular price."

In view of the fact that there has been a considerable time since the last public report of the activities of the market board, the directors, at their meeting last night, decided to issue a statement to the public, from which the foregoing announcements have been taken. The statement further reviews the activities of the board. It continues:

"The board of market directors met many times during the year 1917 to consider the matter of establishing a municipal market in Oakland where farmers and producers would have space free of charge to dispose of their commodities.

Find That All Data Is Positive in Support

"From correspondence this board ascertained that in many large cities municipal markets have been a great success and a benefit to the public. At any time when funds are available sufficient for this purpose the market will be opened."

Many civic and improvement associations interested in the success of the municipal market plan are preparing to cooperate with the board of market directors in carrying the matter to the city council to assure the setting aside of sufficient funds out of the budget of the next fiscal year, commencing July 1, to make it possible for the market directors to take the first steps toward the creation of a market.

The statement issued by the market directors today is signed by the president, W. N. Jenkins, and H. E. Perkins, secretary. The other members are Miss Amanda Smith and Mrs. E. A. Stone.

ENGINEER OF WATERFRONT IS PROPOSED

That the experience of the City of Oakland during the last ten years in the matter of the development of her waterfront would today justify the employment of a highly competent engineer to supervise contemplated improvements for the future, was the gist of an address made by Commissioner P. E. Morse before the public works department before the members of the Oakland Real Estate board last night.

Commissioner Morse presented facts and figures which, he said, should prove convincing to all who have the welfare of the city at heart that the present administration cannot afford to handle waterfront affairs in a haphazard way but that a comprehensive plan of development must be adopted which will meet with requirements many years hence.

"While I do not desire to criticize the former administration which expended the proceeds of the $1,500,000 waterfront bond issue, it is only necessary to say that the present conditions to be satisfied that the maximum of benefit for the city was not obtained," said the commissioner.

LOOK TO FUTURE.
"Whatever the reason or the cause, we have evidence before us today which proves that any one administration cannot look too far into the future."

"After ten years we find that we have some wharves and equipment which does not meet with the requirements of today. It has been but a brief time since the so-called improvements were made and now we are obliged to alter and repair work which was done originally at enormous expense."

"Had there been more foresight shown in the first place perhaps these changes would not now be necessary but as it is we must meet with the emergency that confronts us due to the unforeseen conditions that have arisen."

"I honestly believe that the only solution of the problem at this time is that the city retain the services of a competent engineer who would assume direction over future developments. It is not a matter of cost. This should not be too greatly considered. The problem is too great to quibble over the infinitesimal expense for we might as well start in now and begin things right."

LONG WATERFRONT.

"To begin with, the city has approximately thirteen miles of excellent waterfront. Under development, we might say, one-half is under lease already and more will probably be leased. We want to get the best terms and have the waterfront developed along lines that will be remunerative many years hence. We should make the remainder productive of revenue, it should be income-bearing development that we require."

"For one reason or another it is apparent that the former department of public works was not accorded a free hand in the expenditure of the waterfront bond money, and the improvements were not carried on under any directing and competent hand."

"What have we today, when we stop to figure it out?"

"We have the Livingston street wharf, constructed at a cost of $135,000. It has brought a return of about $600 to the city in the last five years. "City wharf No. 1, known as the Albers lease at the present time, on the western waterfront, had to be completely remodeled to accommodate the new enterprise."

APRON WHARF.

"We have, now unoccupied, apron wharf No. 2, which cost approximately $27,000 to construct and which has produced only $300 in five years. It is this location which the Parr-McCormick Steamship Line propose to lease. It will have to be remodeled at considerable cost to meet requirements. For five years it has been rotting away, of no service to anyone, except probably lone fishermen. It will cost in the neighborhood of $20,000 to make it suitable for producing revenue."

"Wharf No. 3 in the Key Route basin cost $9700 and during five years produced approximately $25 in revenue to the city. In order to accommodate the lessees who now contemplate taking over the property it will have to be removed at an expense of $1500. The city may receive about $4000 in salvage."

NOT TO REPEAT.

"If this sort of haphazard construction was a mistake in the past it is now our desire that such mistakes may not occur again."

"I would suggest that at least $200,000 a year be provided in the levy in addition to the department income, the amount to be placed into necessary improvements so placed that they will be of greatest advantage to the city. For that purpose we need the advice of a competent engineer to show us the way."

"As compared with other California cities, Oakland is far behind in making appropriations for waterfront development. Our attitude appears to be greatly different from that shown by the people of the cities of Richmond and of Los Angeles. "According to the report of the Los Angeles city auditor for 1916-17, the city spent $1,000,000 on its waterfront. The expenses of operation were $102,000 and the revenue was $52,100. But they are preparing in the right way for the future. Their harbor is about one-tenth the size of Oakland's. In Richmond they are also making improvements at heavy cost. In Oakland we had an appropriation of about $4000 this year in addition to the revenue, which in the gross, amounted to about $25,000. Much of this sum has so far been uncollectible money."

MUSLIN SWEATERS.
"So it will be readily seen that if Oakland is to keep pace with other cities in harbor development we must go at it in the right way, spend some money, but do it in an intelligent and systematic manner that will produce the best results and this, in my opinion, can be done only through the aid and advice of an engineer who is competent to direct the work."

"The real estate board voted itself on record as favoring making Oakland a port of call at as early a date as possible for river and coast ship traffic."

EASTBAY SHIPYARD ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION IS PLANNED

PERCY AND FERDIE---Free Eats, but the Extras DO Count Up

By H. A. MacGILL

Creator of the Hall-Room Boys.

Meeting Will Be Called To Organize Sports For The Eastbay Shipbuilders

Joe Tobin and Ed Pessano Ready to Battle When Brooks and Burke Start Things

By Carl E. Brazier

When Clarence Brooks, former Angel catcher, and Billie Burke, former Coast League trainer, started the move to put a baseball team in the field from the Union Iron Works plant in Alameda, they started something that now looks due to grow into an Eastbay Shipyard Athletic Association that will surpass even the athletic activities of the shipyards in the northwest. The proposed association has met with favor wherever it has been discussed among the men and officials of the various shipyards in Oakland and Alameda, and on the suggestion of several of the workers, The TRIBUNE will invite delegates from each of the yards to meet next week to discuss the possibility of organization.

There are plenty of athletes working in the many shipyards on this side of the bay to make the athletic association purely an eastbay affair. Baseball and boxing would probably be the major sports, but with the rivalry that already exists among the various yards, it would not be long before the activities would spread to other lines of athletics.

The shipyard athletic association will be proposed with the idea of determining the shipyard baseball championship of the coming season, but there would be a series of boxing tournaments to give the association an immediate start. Already the boys in the yards are talking of a series of boxing tournaments that would determine the champions of each yard. This would mean a series of boxing tournaments would cover several weeks. With the champions in the various yards determined, it does not take much of an imagination to figure out the interest that would be aroused by a shipyard boxing championship tournament among the winners in each yard represented in the association.

With boxing championships to occupy the attention of a shipyard athletic association for the next two months or more, there would be plenty of time to make plans for a baseball championship. The association would be organized by the shipyard workers, and the association would be organized by the shipyard workers, and the association would be organized by the shipyard workers.

Brooks and Burke spring such names as Billy Lane, Frank Miller, Pop Charley, and Scotty Team. If they figured on frightening anybody with this array of baseball names, they made a bad guess. For now Joe Tobin, former Seal and Copper League player, and Ed (Truck) Pessano, formerly of the Oakland Natives, have come forward with a team that looks strong enough to give the Union boys a great battle.

STROUD, COOPER & SCOTT TEAM. Tobin and Pessano are working at the Moore & Scott shipyard and they have lined up a lot of baseball players. They are ready to meet the Union bunch any time, anywhere, and for anything.

A peek at the names of some of the players on the Moore & Scott team, likely to throw a big scare into the Union Iron boys, but Burke is a good sport and will without a doubt have his club meet the Moore & Scotts. Here are some of the players on the Moore & Scott team which looks to be as strong as any bunch team around here.

Roots Bankhead of the Fruitvale Natives; W. Kramer of the Oaks; John Heaton of the Southern Pacific in the winter. The Oakland Natives; Harry Monahan, one of the best pitchers around here a year or two ago; a catcher of much fame in the Western League who is a husky fellow and a hard hitter; Caswell, who also has a good reputation, and Joe Tobin and Ed Pessano, who need no introduction to the fans.

Claremont-Presidio Golfers Meet Again

San Leandro Team Will Have a Tough Battle for Sunday

San Leandro fans will have a chance to get their first look at the Oakland Natives' team this season, when the Natives meet the San Leandro club at the cherry town Sunday afternoon. The San Leandro team after winning the Alameda county amateur league championship, sent out a challenge to all the teams around the bay and Speed Martin, who is managing the Oakland Natives didn't lose any time in making arrangements for his club to meet the cherry pickers.

Martin will not be with the Natives Sunday, but the San Leandro fans will see their club go up against some fast players. La. Cloutier or Bud Arlett will do the pitching for the Natives and will have Artie Black and "Me" to work against, with the latter looking like first choice, as he is under contract to the Oakland Coast League club. Del Howard will be in line to catch for the Natives' pitchers will be supported by well known players as: Carl Hollings, Dutch Holstun, Rudy Haveran, Peter Starasich, Chickie Hawk, Leoburn, and Ralph Croll. Pop Hanush will do the catching.

Judge Koford Will Give a Talk to the Young Oaks Tonight

In courtroom No. 1 of the county court house at Fifth and Broadway, "Professor" Judge Koford will give a talk to the Young Oaks tonight. The judge will be talking to the Oakland Coast League prospects, who play at present under the name of the Oakland Natives, who will meet tonight at 8 o'clock to discuss their prospects.

Some of the players that came up in last Sunday's game with the Natives. Professor Koford has made arrangements to have Judge Koford give the boys a short talk, which should prove of much help to them during their baseball careers. Koford is an old lover of the game and should make things very interesting for the players.

Butch Johnson who was selected at the last meeting to frame up six different plays for Martin's students to ponder over, has promised to give at least a couple that will make baseball players of them.

CAMP LEWIS BOXERS Are in Quarantine

CAMP LEWIS, Wash., Feb. 8.—Due to the fact that most of the men who were to have appeared in the first smoker in the camp theater last night are in quarantine, the show will be postponed.

Artie Black and Berkeley Southpaw Sign Up With Oaks

Chalk up one more credit mark for the East Bay Winter League! Catcher Artie Black, who showed so much class working with Artie Benham for Fruitvale against Pittsburg Sunday, has signed up with the Oakland Coast League for 1918. When Al Droletto joined the marines and left the Oaks facing the possibility of being shy a catcher, Herb McFarlin, secretary of the club, took a look at Black in Sunday's game and liked him so well that it did not take long to sign him up.

McFarlin has also signed up a young southpaw pitcher from Berkeley and "Me" is very emphatic in announcing that the recruit was not signed because of his name being similar to that of the club secretary, William G. McFarlin (note the difference in spelling). The southpaw who will have a tryout. He has pitched in semi-pro ball in Tait and Nevada and is only 19 years old; he is only an inch under six feet and weighs 170 pounds. He has the physical qualities to make a good pitcher and has a good reputation in the bushes. He asked for a tryout and will get it.

The signing of Catcher Charles Martinelli and First Baseman Earl C. Perry from San Jose is also officially announced by the Oakland club. But these two players were announced exclusively in The TRIBUNE direct from San Jose when Martinelli and Perry signed up.

Major Leaguers Asked to Assist The 1918 Seals

Jack Atkin Still Mentioned As Berry's Successor, But 'Hen' Talks a Bit.

"What have you to offer in the way of players?" is the gist of a telegram Henry Berry Seal overhauled today to four major league club owners.

Finally realizing that players of Class AA caliber are going to be mighty scarce, because of the inroads the draft has made, the owner of the Seals intends to get busy.

"San Francisco will be represented by a real ball club again this season," Berry stated. "I know there are not many players on the market, but there's no reason why the Seals can't get players if the other clubs can."

Berry thinks the Coast League will have a successful year. He bases his opinion on the fact that the Seals have an appointment as manager of the Salt Lake club which will stimulate interest in the Utah metropolis. And the transfer of the Portland franchise to Sacramento, where interest in baseball is running high.

JACK ATKIN BEST CHOICE. While Berry is doing all of this talking, the story still persists that he will be ousted from the nominal ownership of the Seals within a few days and when the replies to his telegrams arrive they may be addressed to the wrong party.

Howard Due Tomorrow. In the meantime Del Howard is on his way from the south. He is due at the Oakland club headquarters tomorrow morning. He will devote tomorrow to getting things in shape for preliminary work.

Eastbay Golf Players More In Limelight

Sequoiah Loses This Year's Championship Play, But Is Slated for 1919 Tourney.

East bay golfers will not play hosts to the visitors in the play for the Northern California "golf" championship in April, but the east bay golfers will play a more important role in the affairs of the Northern California Golf association than heretofore.

V. S. Hardy of the Claremont club was elected first vice-president; E. B. King of Sequoiah was elected to a place on the executive committee; Hardy is on the committee to arrange for the tournament and is also on the handicapping committee.

The Northern California championship tourney was awarded to the Berkeley club, it being ruled that the links of this club are in the best condition. The Sequoiah club put in a bid for the tourney but was turned down on the argument that the Sequoiah links are not old enough for a championship play. There seemed to be a tacit agreement, however, that the Berkeley club will be given the 1919 championship.

This year the championship tourney will be held on Saturday and Sunday, April 6 and 7, at the Claremont club. The tourney will be held at the Claremont club, which is the home of the men's title and Mrs. Hubert E. Law, Northern California women's champion, are expected to be on hand to defend their titles.

Officers of the Northern California Golf Association for the current year were elected at yesterday's annual meeting. The following were named: President, Walter T. Stehmer, Berkeley. Country club, second vice-president, J. C. Feasible, Berkeley. In addition to the officers, the following were named to serve on the executive committee: Dr. James E. Law, Menlo County club; C. F. Preusser, Berkeley Country club and E. B. King, Sequoiah Country club.

The committee to have charge of arrangements for the Northern California tournament is composed of W. W. Stehmer, chairman; V. S. Hardy and Harry James, Berkeley Golf and Country club. The handicapping committee members are Harry Jenkins, W. W. Stehmer and V. S. Hardy.

BASKETBALL NOTES

Four games will be played in the Intercollegiate Basketball league of California and Nevada tonight and tomorrow night and these games should have an important bearing on the race for the championship. St. Mary's and Stanford now lead the league race with two victories each; neither club has been defeated. Tomorrow night these two teams meet at the St. Mary's court in Oakland in what should be the feature basketball game of the season.

Tonight, California goes to San Jose to play the College of the Pacific team; the St. Ignatius team plays at Stanford. Tomorrow night will see two games of local color. In addition to the Stanford-St. Mary's game on the St. Mary's college court, the University Farm school boys from Davis will play the University of California team at Berkeley.

Next week will be the big week for the college league. The University of Nevada team makes its coast and plays four games; Tuesday night against the Farm school at Davis; Wednesday night at Stanford; Friday night at St. Mary's; and Saturday night at California. In addition to these four games for the Nevada team next week, California plays at Stanford on Thursday night; and Davis Farm goes to San Francisco to play St. Ignatius on Saturday night.

The first games in the east bay district of the P. A. A. basketball championship tourney were played at the local P. A. A. court last night. The Berkeley team, a 100-pound team, defeated the Longfellow team, 11 to 7.

At half time the Berkeley boys had a 6 to 3 lead. Walter Mills started for the winners. The Longfellow played the game under protest, the Berkeley team failing to arrive at the time the game was scheduled and delaying the start for half an hour.

In the other P. A. A. game last night, the University of California 130-pound team won from the Berkeley Y. M. C. A. 130-pound squad, 30 to 25. The game was a close one all the way, the college boys leading 15 to 14 at half time. Gifford and Mini, forwards, starred for the winners. Connolly starred for Berkeley, shooting six field goals and five fouls.

There will be two P. A. A. basketball games played tomorrow evening on the San Francisco Turn Yerin court. The 130-pound San Mateo High School team will play the Sunset Athletic Club team, and the unlimited Young Men's Hebrew Association team will tangle with the Hewitt-Ladlow quintet.

The San Francisco Young Men's Institute 145-pound basketball team will play the University of California team Saturday evening on the plus and gold courts.

SEATTLE, Feb. 8.—Washington State College won from the University of Washington here last night in the first of two games of basketball by a score of 29 to 26. The teams will play again tonight.

Berkeley and Technical High schools meet this afternoon at the Oakland Auditorium in basketball. Anyone wishing to learn the outcome of the game may call up The TRIBUNE after six o'clock.

Hollocher, the new infielder of the Cubs, has not reached his twentieth birthday, but critics from the Coast League declare that he plays the game like a veteran and predict that he will be a big success in the majors.

De Oro Stands Chance to Lose Title Tonight

Challenger of Three-Cushion Champ Takes Lead in Second-Night Play.

CHICAGO, Feb. 8.—Angie Kieckhefer gained thirty points in last night's play against Alfred De Oro for the world's three-cushion billiard championship. Kieckhefer scored fifty-eight points last night to De Oro's 45, making them in seven innings. He had a high run of 100 while De Oro's best continuous score was seven. The final block will be played tonight.

De Oro, with a lead of eight points from the first block, again relied on safety play, only to have Kieckhefer peatedly break through with shots which seemed impossible. The challenger made no attempt to play safe, but every shot, and though the breaks of game went against him at most times, his phenomenal shooting enabled him to tie the total score in the twenty-second inning last night and go into the lead in the twenty-third.

De Oro's last night's play Kieckhefer led ten points, but De Oro rallied and ahead 31 to 20, in the sixty-third. Kieckhefer, by a series of six and two single points went out while De Oro scored only one more point.

Difficulty in shipping east and overcrowding of the market with consigned eggs brought about the drop. At the high price of the past few weeks householders refused to buy and the exchange had to depend almost entirely on Eastern shipments to dispose of the goods. Advances Accompany Covering Triple Holiday Is Discounted

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—The approaching triple holiday prompted covering of short contracts today, prominent issues recording gross advances of one to five points.

Substantial recovery from yesterday's depression was shown in the early dealings. Investment rails, shipping, steel and the more prominent equities, as well as motors and oils, averaged gains in excess of a point. The outstanding features included Baldwin Locomotive, General Electric, Industrial Alcohol and Studebaker, in which advances extended practically to two points. Trading broadened with the progress of the session.

Pools were active, participants in the wider operations of the first hour devoting their attention to equities, motors, oils and distilling issues, but the strength of such favorites as United States Steel, Marins and Reading was more helpful to the sustained advance. Minor rails were featured by a nine-point rise in Western Maryland preferred, other low priced colliers also improving. Fractional recesses from maximums occurred later.

Steels, motors and utilities increased their gains in the afternoon. Overnight advances of one to four points were recorded by General Motors, Studebaker, United States Steel, Marins and Reading. General Motors, at a gain of five points, led the active list to higher levels, which invited further profit-taking in the late trading. The closing was firm. Liberty 3 1/2's sold at 98.04 to 97.68, first at 96.46 to 96.36 and second at 96.30 to the low record of 96.28.

The movement of prices in detail at different periods of the session is indicated in the following:

OPENING.—There was a good demand for stocks. The market opened at first few minutes of trading gains from fractions to over one point were made in many issues.

Steel contracts sold up 5-8 to 97-8, and Baldwin rose one point to 97-8. Crucible advanced one point to 97-8, Bethlehem Steel 1-1/2 to 97-8, and American Locomotive 1-1/2 to 97-8. American Smelting advanced one point to 97-8, and fractional advances were made in Anaconda and Utah. The railroad stocks showed an improved tone, Reading advancing 1/2 and Canadian Pacific selling up to 1-1/2.

FOR STOCK.—The strength which was shown in the early trading was maintained all during the forenoon, but after the initial buying the market was less active and some recessions occurred. Baldwin was in good demand, moving up 2-4 to 98-8, and American Locomotive showed a gain of over two points at 97-8. Sharp upturns also occurred in Crucible, American Smelting, American Steel, and American Locomotive. American Locomotive moved up to 97-8 and Bethlehem "B" advanced over one point to 97-8. Liberty bonds were steady, the 4's selling off to a new low record of 95-32.

AFTERNOON.—There was an increased supply of leading stocks during a half point after selling up to 94-1/2, while Baldwin and other steel industrials generally fell about one point. There was a display of strength in many specialties, General Motors moving up six points from the low to 104-1/2, and Studebaker dropping one point to 51. The Liberty 4's sold down to a new low record of 95-32.

LOS ANGELES.—The market closed heavy today. Government bonds were unchanged. Railroad and other bonds were weak. Reactions in the final trading caused slight losses. General Motors rose at 135, a gain 4 1/4 for the day. Baldwin was the strongest among industrial issues, selling up 1/2 to 98-1/2.

Sales, $25,100,000. The following quotations of prices of stocks and bonds on the New York Stock Exchange, from E. F. Hutton & Co., Inc., New York, Feb. 8, 1918:

WIFE ACTS
AS SURGEON,
SAILS SHIP

Sailing the schooner Columbia through a breaking bar without a pilot, while her captain was suffering from a broken arm, which she had set herself with all the skill of a surgeon, Mrs. E. W. Sprague proved herself a navigator of skill and courage in bringing the small vessel safely into port yesterday after the quickest run that has been made from Honolulu in many years.

The Columbia made the passage from the islands to the lightship in twelve days and then ran into a southeaster which carried her north only to meet a norther which brought her back and left her becalmed in fog off the Golden Gate. Five days were lost in these wanderings. It was while waiting for a relieving wind that Captain Sprague met with the accident that disabled him.

He was anxious to get into port and was walking along the poop deck toward the break, looking at the sails as he went. He fell over the break onto the main deck and broke his arm. Mrs. Sprague helped him into the cabin and set the fractured bones. Then she took command of the schooner and sailed her in without a pilot. When the shore surgeon examined the broken arm, he decided that he could not have done a better job himself.

The Columbia's record of twelve days for the 250-mile run to the lightship is the best made by a sailing vessel in many years. The best time was made by the barkentine Jans A. Falkenberg, eight days and the second best by the brig John D. Sprague, ten days.

The Falkenberg was named after Mrs. Falkenberg-Bader, whose second husband was one of the owners of the former Bader's Park, an old-time picnic ground of East Oakland. The vessel was later sold to the Lynde & Hough Company and was for some time in the outfit business out of this port with Captain M. J. Ketton of Oakland as master. Twenty years ago, on March 14, 1898, she took the Charles Lane party from Oakland to Kotzebue Sound in the first rush to the gold mines of Alaska.

Fifteen years ago the Falkenberg, while coming to this port in command of Captain Marden of Alameda, was dismantled and her crew was taken off by the steamer Walla Walla. The craft was picked up later water-logged and towed to Victoria, where she was sold for salvage. Later she was towed to St. Michael, Alaska, where she now lies filled with rocks and used as a bulkhead to protect the wharf from floating ice.

BODY IDENTIFIED

The remains of a woman identified from Lake Merritt by John S. Gutten, manager of the municipal boat-house, late last night, were identified at the morgue today as those of Lydia Kaplan, 52, of San Francisco. The identification was made by the woman's brother, H. Kaplan, who saw her description in the newspapers and recognized his sister. He told the morgue that the woman had been dependent for the past twenty-five years. When found the dead woman had a purse containing $1.50. An inquest will be held.

TO ASK REDUCTION

CHICAGO, Feb. 8.—William D. Haywood, international secretary and treasurer of the I. W. W., through his attorney, G. W. Vandevere of Seattle, will make application in the United States District Court here today for release on bail. Haywood will ask also that his bail be reduced from $25,000 to $15,000.

Bonds in the latter amount already have been prepared, bearing the signature of William B. Lloyd, wealthy Chicago Socialist, and others.

Government attorneys announced they would resist the plea for a reduction of bail.

COR. WASHINGTON & 12TH STREETS

"How old is Ann?" This query was propounded in newspapers and magazines on street cars and in homes many years ago and hundreds of answers were sent to the arithmetic problem which began: "If Mary is — years old, and Ann is twice as old as Mary was when —," and so forth.

Here is another one that is worse than "How old is Ann?" It was gathered by Oscar Silverman of the Toggery on a recent trip East, and it requires a monkey wrench or a knowledge of binomial equations to solve it. However, Silverman says he knows the answer, so it's fair to take a try at it.

The problem: "Five men and a monkey worked all day gathering coconuts and at night lay down beside them, postponing an equitable division till next day. Awakening after an hour or so, and distrusting his companions, the first man, A, divided the nuts into five equal parts, and, after giving the monkey an odd nut that was left over from the division, took away one of the parts and hid it. Then he returned, put together the remaining parts, lay down beside the other men and went to sleep again. Soon the second man, B, did the same thing, and after him C, D and E, in turn, each of them finding and giving the monkey one extra nut after making the division. When morning came the five men divided the nuts, that wit, left, and that time there was no odd one left for the monkey. How many nuts were there at first?"

JACK'S DECISION IS PROMPT AS USUAL

Jack Morello, former baseball player, now a commission merchant, is accustomed to making "umpire's decisions" out of the box when business problems arise. He has had a boy working for him who has been breaking things right and left. Last week Morello told him if he broke anything more he would fire him. He gave like instructions to his business partner.

This morning the partner, who had been getting some egg market prices from the wholesalers over the telephone, called across the market to Morello:

"Hey, Jack," he shouted, "eggs have dropped!"

"Fire him right away. That's the last thing he's going to bust on me."

FRENCH PURCHASER MAKES CAPWELL HURRY

H. C. Capwell, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and in his leisure moments director of one of the city's large department stores, has tales he can tell if he would, but he won't. Perhaps because from one so dapper and dignified and altogether conventional they would lack in conviction. But the Capwell firm last week was moved to a bargain sale with wonderful values offered in the better regions from early morning to late at night. Being forthright, Capwell had seen that there were clerks to care for the crowds, but there were not enough. So he himself departed from the mahogany and leather which comforts a part of his daylight hours to where the crowds were surging about lines. A dozen frenzied women with madness in their eyes and quantities of white things clutched in their fists assaulted him.

"Here, you fellow," shouted one stout woman taking him by the shoulder, "I want this and HURRY."

He hurried. But it was an elevator he seized and the telephone. The whole extra force was concentrated in the basement. Capwell consoled himself with a run up to the Chamber of Commerce rooms.

CIGAR IS GOOD, BUT HE LIKES BETTER ONE.

"Billy" Berceovich had a streak of generosity and treated a friend in the Hotel Oakland to a cigar. It was one of a private stock that comes in fancy gold bands and was one of the best that Berceovich has in stock. The friend lit the cigar, took a couple of puffs and then gave the cigar a sour look.

"What do you sell those for retail?" he asked.

"Two for a quarter," said Berceovich. "What's the matter?"

"Huh," said the friend. "I wish you had given me the 20-cent one."

MRS. RANSOME FAILS AS A PRICE FIXER

There is no reason to suppose that Mrs. Bernard Ransome, high priestess of the Superduty Shop, should know to a penny the value of a boy's suit, perfectly good and warranted all wool save where a triangle out spoiled its smartness. Nor would she be altogether an authority on one woman's long coat, fur trimmed, satiny lined and guaranteed not to be shabby. So the boy's suit she marked 75 cents and the long coat she marked $1 and waited for the buyers to assemble, happily content with her services and judgment. It was a keen-eyed woman who desired to clothe her son. She examined thoroughly and without prejudice the suit. She found the small rent.

"The idea," she accused Mrs. Ransome, "wanting to cheat a poor woman." And Mrs. Ransome withered.

Then came a bright-eyed girl with all of fashion's trills and furbelows. The coat was just what she wanted for the motor. She had almost passed over the dollar in exchange for the nearly new broadcloth satin and fur, when—poof, off came the top button.

"Cheats," she exclaimed. Can't you even keep in repair the clothes you try to sell?" and she kept her dollar.

Mrs. Ransome is looking for some one with feelings not sensitive to the needs of the public is not appreciative and who knows how to charge real prices for real things.

She hasn't given up. But she wishes that she could—some days.

HENNESSEY FINDS WATCH IN HIP POCKET

William J. Hennessey, prosecuting attorney in the police court, has had considerable experience in prosecuting pickpockets, but today he had an experience which forebodes trouble for the next "dip" that he has to deal with.

While Hennessey was pacing the courtroom during the morning session in Judge Samuel's court he suddenly reached for his watch. It was not there; the proceedings stopped while the prosecutor made protest to the court.

"Some one has my watch," he said. "I would like to have a recess while a search is made." "Have you looked in all of your pockets?" asked Judge Samuel. "Better 'frisk' yourself and see if it is not in another pocket."

"That's ridiculous," replied Hennessey, with increased agitation.

Unconsciously he commenced to go through his pockets and

ROLPH YARD
PLANNED 12
YEARS AGO

ALAMEDA, Feb. 8.—Announcement by Mayor James Rolph of San Francisco that he is to construct a shipyard in Alameda occasions no special surprise in this city, for Hind, Rolph & Co. have owned a thirteen-acre tract in this city for years. Ten or twelve years ago it was reported that Hind, Rolph & Co. were then figuring on building a shipyard on the property for the repurposing of the big fleet owned by the firm. The plans were later temporarily abandoned.

The land is east of the Barnes-Tibbitts new plant and borders the harbor edge at the north end of Walnut and Willow streets. Rolph is reported to have purchased the interest of his partner in the land. Rolph recently had completed at the Union Iron Works two huge steel tugs which are commandeered by the government practically before they left the ways. He has also sold numerous of his vessels, built on the ways, and has made several million dollars by these sales.

With the land already owned, the establishment of the shipyard is comparatively a simple matter for a man with capital. It is announced that $250,000 will be expended in the construction of three sets of ways. Rolph has always been close to head men of the Union Iron Works, and it is undoubtedly true that his new plant will be able to get orders for all vessels Rolph may care to take on sub-contracts from the larger plant. Rolph's first building venture will be the construction of two steel tugs to take the places of the new tugs taken over by the government.

SINGLE ISSUE.

RICHMOND, Feb. 8.—A single issue will be made of the national prohibition amendment by the dry workers of Contra Costa county, according to a decision reached following the Dry Federation meeting at Fresno. An assemblyman is to be elected from this county this fall, V. D. Calahan of Antioch is incumbent.

finally he drew forth the watch from his hip pocket.

"I am still suspicious," he remarked, looking about the courtroom, where he met several broad smiles.

2 FIELD DAY PROGRAMS TO
NOT CONFLICT

Plans being made for athletic events at Mare Island on Washington's Birthday will not be in conflict with the big Service Men's Field Day program planned for Oakland by the local committees of the War Camp Community Recreation Service work. Reports sent out from Mare Island that all athletic events were planned for the holiday there created the impression that the Oakland program would not draw the delegations expected from the naval cantonment and the marine barracks on the island.

Alexander Stewart, secretary of the War Camp Community Service executive committee, has returned from the island with an official report that corrects this impression. Stewart was officially advised that the events planned for the island on Washington's Birthday will not be in conflict with the local program. The program planned at Mare Island will rather be supplementary to the Oakland program. It will, of course, be impossible for all of the thousands of men in the two camps at Mare Island to make the trip to Oakland, and the athletic program in camp is being planned for the benefit of the boys who must stay behind.

The Marine Band of 67 pieces will make the trip to Oakland for the big day Washington's Birthday. This is officially settled and all arrangements for transportation, etc., have been made to make the band a certain fixture on the big program.

From the naval cantonment comes the story that changes in the personnel of the men in camp have broken up Duffy Lewis' baseball team so that the cantonment may not be represented by a baseball team. But there will be a basketball team, a tug-of-war squad, and plenty of boxers and wrestlers, and a crew for the lake race to represent the cantonment. Rod Murphy will bring a baseball team from the marine barracks, and there are sure to be baseball teams from the Presidio, Camp Fremont, and Fort Mason to round out a baseball tournament.

CAMP KEARNY TROOPS AWAIT
CALL TO ARMS

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 8.—The thousands of men in the Fortieth division, the "Sunshine Division," at Camp Kearny, are ready for the call "for any possible service." Major-General Frederick T. Strong declared to the United Press today.

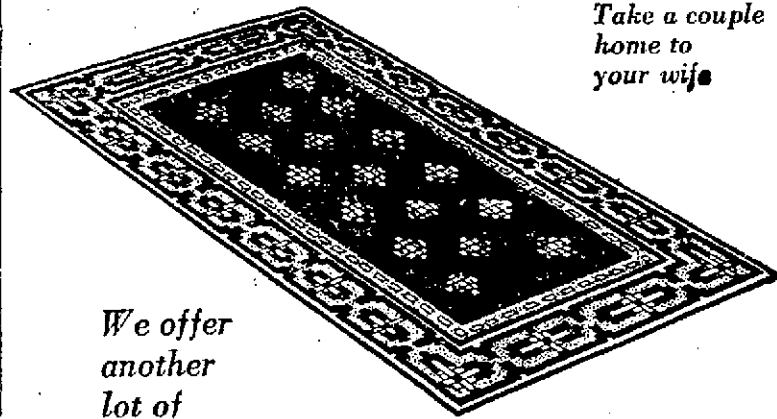

The general had high praise for their discipline and the progress of the men in learning all the tricks of modern warfare, and the opinion is prevalent here that the entire division will soon be on their way "over there."

LANDIS REVIEWS
PACKERS' CASES

CHICAGO, Feb. 8.—With arguments concluded, Federal Judge Landis today took under advisement the question of the federal trade commission's authority to search packers' vaults and the extent of its investigating powers.

Similarity of issues raised under the warrants for seizure of I. W. W. evidence caused Judge Landis to withhold his decision until arguments are heard this afternoon on motions to quash the I. W. W. indictments.
